Sidhu yet to take back resignation; demands dismissal of Advocate General Deol & DGP Sahota; Charanjit Channi refuses to yield

Panel to bridge party-govt gap to defuse crisis

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A coordination committee comprising of the Punjab unit of the Congress, the state government and the AICC is expected to be set up to resolve the crisis triggered by the shock resignation of Navjot Singh Sidhu as state unit chief following his differences with Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi. This was decided during the two-hour meeting between Sidhu and Channi on Thursday. According to sources, the panel will meet every week to ensure smooth functioning of the government and its decisions will be unanimous. Channi, Sidhu and AICC general-secretary and Punjab in-charge Harish Rawat will be its members.

A similar panel was formed when Amarinder Singh was the chief minister to coordinate with the state unit of the Congress, but it never met.

Thursday's meeting, however, did not break the deadlock as Sidhu refused to withdraw his resignation despite appeal from Congress leaders.

Sidhu drove down from Patiala to the Punjab Bhawan here to meet Channi, who was tasked by the party high command to negotiate with him. During the meeting, Sidhu questioned the selection of APS Deol as Advocate-General, Iqbal Preet Singh Sahota as DGP, besides certain 'tainted leaders' in the cabinet, especially Rana Gurjit Singh, who had resigned from the Amarinder Singh cabinet in 2018 following corruption allegations.

According to sources, Sidhu demanded during the meeting that both Deol and Sahota be changed. To this, Channi clarifed that Sahota was only given additional charge of DGP and that a panel of names of officers will be sent to the UPSC for short-listing the new DGP. As for the A-G, a team of a special prosecutor and 10 lawyers will be set up. This team will work under the special prosecutor and handle all important cases of the state government, Sidhu was told.

Not joining BJP but won't stay with Cong, says Capt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chandigarh/New Delhi

AMID speculation on his future political trajectory, former chief minister Amarinder Singh on Thursday said he will not join the BJP but will quit the Congress, amid indications that he might float his own political party ahead of the Assembly election due in five months.

"I will not be treated in this humiliating manner. I will not take such insults," he asserted, while stating he was still weighing his options. When asked if he would float a new political party, Amarinder said: "Whatever happens, you will get to know."

While senior party leaders like Ambika Soni and Kamal Nath have been deputed to reach out to Amarinder, he appears to have made up his mind to make a clean break.

Condemning the protests outside senior leader Kapil Sibal's house, Amarinder said the Congress was sidelining and humiliating party veterans to its detriment.

Reiterating his muscular nationalist line, Amarinder said he flagged the issue of Pakistan drones dropping weapons in the state during his meeting with National Security Adviser Ajit Doval on Thursday.

On Wednesday, he had a meeting with Union Home Minister Amit Shah, which triggered the rumour of his joining the BJP. He, however, claimed he had urged Amit Shah for an early resolution to the farmers' agitation and a grant of ₹25,000 crore for crop diversification, he said.

Keeping up his attack on Sidhu, Amarinder said he was not the right person to lead Punjab. "He is a mere crowd puller who does not know how to carry his team along," he said. Pointing out that he had worked with many PPCC chiefs, and was himself the party president once, he said: "Sidhu's task was to run the party, while Channi's was to run the government. Officers are appointed by the chief minister and not the party president," he said.

ZYDUS CADILA JAB TO BE ROLLED OUT TOMORROW

AHMEDABAD-based Zydus Cadila's three-dose Covid-19 vaccine is likely to be included in the national vaccination drive from Saturday, according to Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan. Officials said negotiations between the Centre and the vaccine maker about the price and supply are in the final stages.

Sources said ZyCoV-D, approved by the drug regulator in August, is likely to be the most expensive Covid-19 vaccine to be procured by the government as it has to be administered in three doses and needs a special applicator instead of a syringe. "ZyCoV-D will be administered on Day 0, Day 28 and Day 56 using an applicator costing ₹25,000, which can be used for 10,000 people," said an official, adding that the government will have to buy the equipment along with the vaccine.

ZyCoV D has also been approved for inoculating 12-17 year-olds. Being a needle-free vaccine, it ensures painless vaccine delivery. Nearly one crore doses of the vaccine are expected to be available in October.

Cold ocean current kills fish off Karwar coast

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @ Karwar

AN unusual climatic phenomenon is believed to be responsible for the largescale deaths of the Silver Croaker fish along the Kasarkod beach in Honnavar taluk of Uttara Kannada district. According to marine experts, cold ocean currents, which can be an early sign of global warming, could have caused the fish deaths.

The 5 km-long Kasarkod beach was found strewn with about five tons of dead Silver Croaker fish. Local fishermen initially suspected it to be a case of poisoning or the result of illegal fishing methods. However, the cause was a drastic change in water temperature, pointed out marine expert Prakash Mesta who conducted some checks.

"The water was so cold that it felt as if some unimaginably huge block of ice had fallen into the sea. The cold current stretched for up to 2 km," claimed Ganapathi Tandel, a fisherman.

Explaining what may have caused so many fish to die, Mesta said, "This particular species of fish, a bottom dweller, cannot tolerate extreme cold temperatures. There are seven ocean currents. One is linked to Canada, which connects with the Indian Ocean. If the water gets cold there due to melting of icebergs, the water here also gets cold. The bottom sea fish are unable to bear this sudden dip in temperature and are washed ashore dead."

Tandel said that he had noticed a similar occurrence several years ago, when Silver Croaker fish were found dead on the beach, but only about 5 to 10 kg.

"But this time, a lot more fish have died. Our entire community got together and collected about 250 baskets of fish, weighing 5 tons, from the shore," he said. Being edible, the fish was sent to a fish oil factory in Kundapur.

Renukacharya, Jeevaraj back as political secys to CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HONNALI MLA M P Renukacharya and former Sringeri MLA D N Jeevaraj, who had worked as political secretaries to former Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, have been reappointed as political secretaries to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. However, N R Santosh, who was also political secretary to Yediyurappa, did not make it.

Official notifications issued on Wednesday stated that the appointments will be with immediate effect and that Renukacharya and Jeevaraj will hold cabinet rank. Both met the CM on Thursday.

A few weeks ago, Renukacharya, a Yediyurappa loyalist, had expressed displeasure over not being inducted in the Bommai cabinet.

Sources pointed out that though Bommai is working hard to strike a balance by meeting party MLAs and the central leaders in Delhi, Yediyurappa's shadow is still evident with the appointment of his loyalists. Yediyurappa resigned as CM on July 26. Bommai kept out some of those from Yediyurappa's cabinet and even appointed IAS officer V Ponnuraj as secretary to the CM, replacing Selvakumar who was secretary to Yediyurappa.

Oily discharge from Mangaluru refinery polluting water bodies

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

DISCHARGE of blackish oily water from the Mangalore Refinery and Petrochemicals Ltd (MRPL) into the storm water drain in the refinery area, has contaminated water bodies in the region, setting off alarm bells among those living in and around Jokatte and Thokur. Locals complain that they have been seeing blackish water flowing into the Thokur stream since the last one week.

The Nagarika Horata Samiti, a committee formed by locals to take up community issues, complained to MRPL officials about the problems they are facing due to discharge of brackish water. However, contaminated water continues to flow into the Thokur stream and River Phalguni. Locals pointed out that the problem had cropped up about six years ago when petrochemical waste water was let into storm water drains. However, back then, immediate action was taken after a massive protest.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, MRPL General Manager (corporate communications) Dr Rudolph Noronha maintained that as soon as they received a complaint from locals about oily water being found in the marshy land in the refinery area, the environment officials checked the area and found layers of the oil in the water. Some units were shut down owing to low demand in the light of the Covid-19 pandemic and they carried out maintenance of those units, he pointed out.

SINKHOLE OPENS UP, STOPS WORK

Metro's TBM was drilling towards Tannery Road; four-member family evacuated

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

NAMMA Metro tunnelling work came to an abrupt halt on Thursday morning when a large sinkhole opened up as Tunnel Boring Machine 'Bhadra' was drilling from Venkateshpura Metro Station towards Tannery Road.

A family of four, residing on the first floor, was evacuated, while a chicken shop on the ground floor has been shut temporarily.

"The TBM had completed nearly 110 metres of tunnelling when the sinkhole opened up around 7.30 am. This was because of an old open well that was closed, and a building constructed on top of it," a senior official said.

BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parwez said 9.5 metres of the well's wall had collapsed and fallen on the TBM.

Officials fill the sinkhole with concrete and sand on Thursday. Tunnelling work will resume after the filling settles down in a couple of days | EXPRESS

TNIE spoke to one of the family members, Gulzar Begum, who said they had lived in the house for nearly seven years. She works as a domestic help at a few houses in the neighbourhood, while her husband Syed Soud is a loader at grain shops in Shivajinagar. Her sons -- Syed Tameen (15) and Syed Ayan (10) -- are students in a government school nearby.

"When I woke up at 5am, I saw that one side of the building was missing. I went down and checked in the area, and someone told me there was a terrible sound last night, around 11.30pm. He advised me that it was not safe to stay in the building and asked us to leave immediately. I woke up my family members and we rushed out immediately. My sons were really frightened when they saw what had happened to our building," she said.

Though BMRCL provided the family alternative accommodation at Nagawara, they chose to stay at her mother's house in KG Halli, she added.

An official said, "We have filled the sinkhole with concrete and sand. It has to settle down, which will take a few days. We will restart tunnelling work after that."

Parwez told TNIE that a second door-to-door survey will be conducted on Tannery Road, Shivajinagar and surrounding areas immediately before tunnelling resumes. "We had already done a survey before starting tunnelling, open wells were closed and the families compensated. However, in this specific case, even the owner did not know that the building had been built on an open well," he said.

The concrete is likely to settle down in a couple of days and tunnelling will resume very slowly, the MD added.

Mantri Mall owes crores in property tax, say officials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

While the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is busy issuing notices to house owners who have not paid property taxes, and even threatening to seize the properties, it is yet to recover crores in tax dues from Abhishek Developers (Mantri Mall) from 2018-19.

On Wednesday, when the BBMP west zone officials went there to close down the mall for not clearing pending dues and paying up fresh taxes, the management cleared only part of the dues.

"This has been happening multiple times since the last three years. Usually, people pay their taxes either manually or online. But in case of this property, we have to keep going and threatening them or issue notices. Each time when we go to close down the place, they seek time by paying a partial amount and state that shoppers/citizens will be affected. This is becoming a regular affair. Despite pasting notices, there is little impact," a west zone official rued.

"Many notices have been issued for tax evasion, and non-payment, dated September 30, too. On Thursday when we went to Mantri Mall to initiate action, the management issued a DD for Rs 5 crore along with a requisition letter stating that the remainder will be paid by October 31. This will be processed and the next course of action will be decided," the west zone BBMP officials said.

Classes resume in full, but BMTC not to increase trips

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

DESPITE Classes 6-12 reopening in full strength from Friday, the Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) will not increase the number and frequency of buses, for now, to cater to the extra rush of students.

The transport utility will instead wait for a few days to assess the demand before taking a decision on adding schedules and how many.

At present, BMTC runs 4,800 non-air-conditioned buses against 5,200 that were plying before the pandemic, and just 43 AC Volvo buses out of 750.

BMTC Managing Director Anbu Kumar told The New Indian Express that the number of schedules and buses will be increased soon to meet the demand with more students expected to take buses to and from schools from Friday.

Schools had reopened on August 23, but only at 50 per cent capacity. This meant a much-reduced demand for BMTC buses among students.

BMTC Chief Traffic Manager S Rajesh said there will be no addition to the existing BMTC schedules as they have not been able to assess the rise in demand for buses yet.

BMTC will assess the demand before taking a decision on adding schedules

Officials, led by the Chief Traffic Manager, will assess the demand over the next few days to come to a conclusion on how many schedules needs to be added to accommodate the additional crowd.

Officials on ground are expected to provide weekly reports on increase in commuters. This and the number of bus passes issued for a region and the daily tickets sold, which is a more accurate estimate, will reflect the demand, an official said.

"The IT crowd has not returned to the city in full strength. Hence, we might not witness an increase like pre-pandemic levels. However, the number schedules will have to be increased, which will mean an increase in the number of trips too," a BMTC official said.

CALL TO MAKE CITY CYCLE-FRIENDLY

Bengaluru: A dedicated cycling infrastructure needs to be created in the city to ensure the safety of cyclists, said Directorate of Urban Land Transport (DULT) Commissioner V Manjula on Thursday. At a discussion during the release of the Bengaluru Livelihood Cyclists Survey Report, organised by B.Pac, Manjula said many two tier cities are also working on developing cycle lanes, and investment must be made on improving the cycling network in Bengaluru. Agreeing to this, Ashish Verma, associate professor, IISc, suggested that the government should focus on creating infrastructure for safety of those for whom cycling is the only mode of transport. Bengaluru Cycle Mayor Sathya Sankaran said companies should give incentives to their employees for cycling to work. ENS

B'LURU, MYSURU AMONG 9 CITIES FOR CENTRE's E-VEHICLE THRUST

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TWO cities from Karnataka -- Bengaluru and Mysuru -- are among the nine nationwide that have been selected for the Centre's 'Grand Challenge' to deploy more electric vehicles (EVs) under public transport.

The challenge was announced on Thursday, on a day when Bengaluru got its first e-bus, said Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation Commissioner Anbu Kumar.

"Now, a detailed plan and models will be submitted to the State and Central governments after which the city will get more electric buses that will be funded by the Centre. This is important because at present an electric bus costs Rs one crore while a diesel bus come at just around Rs 30 lakh," Kumar said.

Transport Minister B Sriramlu inspects the e-bus in Bengaluru on Thursday. The vehicle will be launched on November 1 after trial runs | VINOD KUMAR T

The Centre is keen on getting more electric vehicles on the road in future and the Grand Challenge was floated to this end, he added.

The e-bus procured on Thursday will be launched on November 1. "It was received in Kengeri station and trial runs will be done on Metro feeder line routes, where it will be used. We are expecting 10 more buses in another 20 days," he said.

Built by JBM Auto Ltd, the bus, with a carrying capacity of 33 passengers, can run for 120 km on one charge. The company will hand over 90 more vehicles by December 15.

After inspecting the bus, Transport Minister B Sriramulu said 90 e-buses will be launched in the first phase and 300 in the second phase.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It looks very much as if there is an important invitation on its way. This may be social, but is likely to involve you in increased activity, so there could be a professional dimension, perhaps some sort of responsible role. You might feel that it's a burden, but you should still do your best.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
As the hours pass you will begin to become more aware of financial considerations. Where, before, you had valued other people for their own sake, you may now begin to wonder whether you're getting your money's worth. You might have to make some cool calculations before you can reach a satisfactory conclusion.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Don't worry if your confidence sags early in the day, because this will be no more than a symptom of the end of a brief, lunar phase. By the end of the afternoon you should be ready for the fray, filled with fresh enthusiasm. The golden rule is, if you need a rest, take one!

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You may decide, quite sensibly, that there are certain things best kept to yourself. However, remember that if you do go behind someone's back, even for the noblest of reasons, you may be caught out! You'd better have a story ready - and make sure it's a convincing one.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you feel that you have not yet had your just rewards financially, you can do two things. First, you can wait just a little longer, perhaps until next week. Secondly, you can be as sweet and charming to other people as possible. That should help - at least for now.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Pull out all the stops, and don't take no for an answer. If people refuse your suggestions, commands or pleas, don't try to force them. Instead, persuade them what a marvellous time they'd have if only they agreed with you! Plus, of course, you actually have to come up with the goods!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
More than anyone, you are aware of the way the emotional current is flowing. Increasingly you will veer towards thoughts of escape. You may not be running away, but it will be good to plan ways of turning your routine on its head, looking at life from a completely fresh perspective.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Some sort of business opportunity is floating by, and as soon as it hoves into view, you'll have to grab it: there'll be no second chances, at least not for a little while. Emotionally, you should try to keep things as light as possible, and deal with tensions as soon as they arise.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Everything indicates that the pressure could be piled on, although the initiative could be coming from other people. You have your own desires, but partners and employers have expectations which could be equal but opposite! Someone might have to back down - and soon.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's about time you turned your attention to certain routine tasks which you said you'd do, but never did! Start as early as possible, otherwise you'll be rushed off your feet when you are eventually called to account. The more you achieve now, the less you'll have to do later on.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your mood will lighten very soon, and you may feel better able to press on with your own private emotional goals. Your determination will be undiminished, though and, only if you have responsibility for children or younger relations, will you have your hands full.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You still have some way to go before you can be truly at peace with yourself. But, in your heart of hearts you know that this is only an illusion anyway. Therefore, make the most of current circumstances, especially the fact that other people are showing a real interest in you.

TAC to decide on bigger audience for Jamboo Savari

MYSURU: In the wake of growing demand to scale up Dasara celebrations and allow more people to visit Dasara venues and events, the state government has written to the Technical Advisory Committee, seeking permission to allow 500 more people for the Jamboo Savari. Health and Family Welfare Minister Dr K Sudhakar disclosed this in the city on Wednesday. "We have written to the panel and are awaiting its response," he said. He said there is a need to maintain 3.5 metres distance while watching Jamboo Savari. ENS

TAC flags two events, advises strict protocol

Appropriate behaviour, distance, compulsory masks, at least one vaccine dose for October functions

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

THE Technical Advisory Committee, at a recent meeting, listed out some important Covid-appropriate behaviour guidelines to be followed during two events planned in October, which are expected to draw a huge number of participants. Experts have warned that though the number of cases in the state is seemingly low, Bengaluru alone is still registering about 300 cases a day, and if guidelines are not followed, there may be a danger of cluster formation.

The two events are Kaigarika Adalat (Entrepreneurship Workshop and Industrial Adalat), to be held on October 8 and 9, and Swarnim Vijay Varsh: Defence Conclave, to be held on October 23 and 24. The Adalat is being held at Palace Grounds, and is expected to draw people from various cities and districts.

The TAC has said that following Covid-19 protocol is very important and "no waiver is recommended". The experts recommend that every visitor should undergo compulsory thermal screening and only the asymptomatic are to be allowed entry. The organisers should have negative RT-PCR reports that are not older than 72 hours on the first day, and the organisers and visitors should have received at least one dose of vaccination. All participants have to be compulsorily masked at all times.

While these recommendations remain the same for both events, the TAC report added that those above 65 years of age, pregnant women and lactating mothers should avoid the gathering, and children below 10 years of age should not be allowed inside. Also, hand sanitiser should be made available at all strategic places, and the premises should be sanitised every day, including the rest rooms.

The report also lists other recommendations, like 3.25 sqm of space per person to avoid crowding at the venue, physical distance of at least 1 metre is to be maintained, the floor is to be marked with squares or circles where necessary, and be effectively enforced. All food and drink items are to be packaged in such a way as to be disposed of readily. Air-conditioning should comply with Covid norms, the report says.

Meanwhile, anyone having Covid-like symptoms should immediately be isolated in a room, and a temporary shelter be set up at the venue for this purpose, experts said.

BLOCK, LANE-LEVEL VAX CENTRES

BENGALURU: To expedite the vaccination process, BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) D Randeep said that block and lane-level vaccination centres will be set up from October 4. Each block will comprise 750-1,000 houses with each ward having 15- 50 blocks. In the BBMP limits, 77,19,506 people have at least taken one dose of Covid-19 vaccine (85%)

DOCS REMOVE 8KG TUMOUR FROM ODISHA MAN'S FACE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WEIGHING a whopping 8kg, a tumour drooping from the right side of his face was a source of misery since childhood for a man from Odisha.

He was suffering from a rare condition called plexiform neurofibroma, a benign tumour of peripheral nerves which grew as he aged. He faced public humiliation due to his looks and had visited multiple hospitals earlier for partial resection (cutting out tissue or organ) of the tumour. At a major hospital in Odisha, his case was reviewed, surgery was attempted and later abandoned due to uncontrolled bleeding.

He came down to Bengaluru and visited Aster CMI Hospital for treatment, through a crowd-sourced effort from Newslions Media Network Pvt Ltd and Milaap. He underwent 16 surgical procedures over a period of six months to get rid of the tumour by a team of doctors, involving neurosurgery, plastic surgery, oncology, ENT, neuro-anaesthesia and ophthalmology, and various departments. The tumour covered the right side of his face, head, neck, infiltrating into the right orbit and completely engulfing the right eye, which made surgical removal difficult.

"His CT scan also showed that his facial bones were destroyed. Dealing with such highly complex cases often requires different modalities of treatment and a multi-disciplinary approach. The tumour gets blood from different blood vessels, which in turn grows the size of the tumour and also grows the blood vessels. If we had removed the tumour as is, it would have led to massive bleeding, which is what happened in the other hospital. Hence, we blocked blood supply to the tumour so that he bled less," said Dr Ravi Gopal Varma, Lead Consultant, Neurosurgery and Chief of Neurosciences, Aster CMI Hospital.

He did lose a fair amount of blood. He was transfused with 40 litres of fluids, blood and blood components while operating.

Prior to the surgery, he weighed 58kg and post that, 44kg. Once the tumour was removed, they took him up for reconstruction surgery after 48 hours. The patient was successfully discharged, and is visiting hospital for follow-up. He has returned to his hometown, tumour-free.

> Since the tumour had destroyed his facial bones, the challenge was to restore them after removal of the tumour. With his CT scans data, a 3D printed skull model of his face was made to assess the extent of the tumour and design excision plan and reconstruction

In meet with CM, BJP MLAs cry foul over disparity in fund allocation

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

IN order to take BJP MLAs into confidence, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai met them at his residence on Thursday and held talks on various issues.

Taking a cue from Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who used to meet Gujarat BJP MLAs when he was CM of the western state, Bommai has decided to hold meetings with his party MLAs every Thursday. In the first such meeting, some BJP MLAs from Bengaluru expressed displeasure over not getting grants to take up development works in their constituencies. They were unhappy over disparity in allocation of funds.

The legislators from Bengaluru reportedly told Bommai that their constituencies were neglected for the past 8-9 years, while some influential party MLAs and turncoats from JDS and Congress got grants for their segments. The CM assured them of grants, depending on availability of funds.

BJP sources said some party MLAs from Bengaluru, including Ravi Subramanya (Basavanagudi), S Raghu (CV Raman Nagar), Uday Garudachar (Chickpet), M Krishnappa (Bengaluru South), Satish Reddy (Bommanahalli) were part of the meeting. The team discussed Bengaluru-related issues, including elections to BBMP.

During the Congress government from 2013 to 2018, and during the Congress-JDS coalition government in 2019, the constituencies represented by BJP MLAs got fewer grants. When Yediyurappa took oath as CM in 2019, he assured them of grants, but set aside more funds for constituencies where bypolls took place after rebel MLAs from Congress and JDS joined BJP, including Rajarajeshwarinagar, KR Puram, Yeshwanthpur and Mahalakshmi Layout. Some powerful MLAs got good grants as they also served as ministers, sources added. "Only MLAs from core Bengaluru and not so influential MLAs got nothing, and they were unhappy,'' sources told TNIE.

Meanwhile, several other BJP MLAs, including Masale Jayaram (Turuvekere), Amrut Desai (Dharwad Rural), Preetham Gowda (Hassan) and Umanath Kotyan (Mulky-Moodbidri) too met Bommai.

When Yediyurappa was the CM, there were complaints from several quarters, including from within the party, over BY Vijayendra's interference when they wanted to meet the CM to discuss their constituencies. "To take party legislators into confidence, Bommai will be meeting MLAs every Thursday," sources from the CMO said.

According to sources, Bommai heard out the woes of the legislators and explained to them the financial condition of the state owing to the Covid-19 pandemic. He discussed roads, drinking water and other amenities in their constituencies, and told them to work towards strengthening the party, with a series of polls in the near future, including the October 30 bypolls to Sindagi and Hanagal.

While a couple of MLAs raised the issue of appointing chairpersons for various boards and corporations, Bommai reportedly told them that a decision will be taken by the party high command.

Bommai off to Delhi again, cabinet expansion on cards

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai is expected to leave for New Delhi on October 8, for talks with Karnataka incharge Arun Singh and party president J P Nadda, to fill the four vacancies in his cabinet.

The chief minister is expected to carry a list of probables for the posts of ministers and also chairpersons of boards and corporations.

Bommai will also seek to meet Union Home Minister Amit Shah, if he can get an appointment. This will be Bommai's fifth visit to the National Capital in about two months of his tenure, since he took over on July 28.

Sources said that while supporters of former chief minister BS Yediyurappa have been eagerly seeking the inclusion of his son B Y Vijayendra into the cabinet, there are certain leaders in Delhi who are not keen on the idea, and have opposed it.

Meanwhile, there are other aspirants who have contacted leaders in Delhi, and are waiting to be included in the Bommai cabinet.

Likely to meet Health Min

The chief minister is expected to meet Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya and other central ministers to raise the state's development issues and finances.

Bommai is also expected to carry names of probable candidates for the Sindagi and Hanagal bypolls, which will be discussed at the Core Committee meeting on Sunday, and will be finalised in Delhi. These two bypolls are a real test for Bommai, and he would be expected to perform and win the two seats. The bypolls are to be held on October 3, with the results to be announced on November 2

Bommai will also be participating in a conclave by a private media house and newsmagazine during his visit.

BJP core committee meet to discuss bypolls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE BJP state core committee meeting will be held in Bengaluru on Sunday to discuss the party's strategy for the bypolls to two Assembly segments and the Legislative Council elections.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, party national general secretary in charge of Karnataka Arun Singh, former Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa and other senior leaders will attend the meeting.

The party leaders are likely to discuss names of potential candidates for the October 30 Sindagi and Hanagal byelections. The election notification will be issued on October 1 and the last date of filing of nominations is October 8.

During the meeting, the party leaders are likely to discuss specifics about the constituencies and constitute teams consisting of senior leaders. The BJP will be looking to retain Hanagal seat that was represented by its senior leader CM Udasi and win Sindagi seat that was held by MC Managuli of the JDS.

Sources further said that after the core committee meeting, the party's state unit is likely to consult local leaders and send the list to Delhi and the party Parliamentary Board will take a final decision on the candidates.

In the party core committee meeting held at Davanagere on September 19, the state leaders had emphasised on the importance of winning both the seats as its failure to do so will send a wrong message.

Yediyurappa had even asked the party leaders not to consider Hanagal and Sindagi an easy turf. The bypolls are the first major elections after Bommai took over as the state's chief minister.

Sunday's core committee meeting will also discuss MLC elections from the local bodies. The parties are in the process of finalising their candidates for the MLC elections.

JDS TO IMPROVE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE WITH PARTY MOBILE APP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IT was a day for setting targets for Janata Dal Secular cadres, on the fourth day of the party's Janata Parva 1.0 workshop at Bidadi near here on Thursday.

JDS youth leaders — Lok Sabha Member of Parliament Prajwal Revanna and JDS youth wing president Nikhil Kumaraswamy — set 123 seats as the assembly election target in 2023.

The party also plans to widen its membership base by launching an app. JDS leader and former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy said the party would launch an app to recruit members. Those who wish to join the party can download the app and register. It will also ensure that no one needs to go out on a membership drive, Kumaraswamy said.

25% tickets to youth

The JDS is planning to give 30-35 per cent of assembly tickets to women candidates, and will consider giving 25 per cent tickets to youth leaders, as proposed by Nikhil Kumaraswamy.

At a press briefing, Kumaraswamy said the party is gearing for the 2023 assembly polls.

"We will work hard in all 224 constituencies in Karnataka to reach the desired target of 123 Assembly seats," the former chief minister said.

Five-fold plan

The party is planning a five-fold plan called 'Pancharatna', which will be implemented to benefit all, if the party comes to power.

"Water resource projects are the lifeline of the state, and we discussed the issue at the party meeting. These projects should not be "money-making projects", Kumaraswamy added.

Paid less wages, allege MGNREGA workers

SUNIL PATIL @Belagavi

WORKERS employed under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (MGNREGS) at Kadoli village near Belagavi were paid a meagre Rs 100 as wages as against Rs 289 per day, fixed by the government. While panchayat officials maintain that wages were paid as per the work done, the villagers claim they were paid less. On Thursday, they even stages a protest in front of the gram panchayat office.

At Kadoli Gram Panchayat, there are over 2,000 active workers registered for MGNREGS scheme and taking up various works such as lake development, desilting of canals, rivers and lakes, cleaning and creating new trenches, building water tanks in the forest regions, etc. When there were no jobs for some time in Kadoli and surrounding areas, these workers had to trek 20 km for jobs. Under the scheme, workers must be paid Rs 275 as daily wages. Every family having a job-card is given 100 days of work. However, some panchayat officials are cutting the wages citing various reasons.

Picture for representation purpose only

According to the workers, many of them were paid a paltry Rs 100 per day despite working in forest and hilly regions round the clock. When they came to know that they were paid lesser wages, they gathered in large numbers and staged a sit-in protest in front of the Gram Panchayat office. The panchayat officials and the engineer who supervised the work tried to defend the decision to pay lesser wages claiming that the workers had not completed the quantum of work. However, the workers alleged that the engineer and panchayat officials did not visit the work site when the works were in progress.

"We never left any work midway and ensured that the entire work assigned to us was completed. But the officials have cut our wages for no reason this time. After realising his mistake, the engineer has now assured us of full wages. Panchayat officials say they will review the works done before clearing our wages," the workers said.

Despite several attempts, the Taluk Panchayat Executive Officer and Zilla Panchayat CEO Darshan H V were not available for comments on the wage issue.

A TEMPLE FOR GANDHI

The temple dedicated to Mahatma Gandhi in Betageri town

Betageri keeps alive reverence for Father of the Nation

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

AFTER seven decades, the temple dedicated to Mahatma Gandhi in Betageri town, has finally got a roof. Work is likely to be completed on Saturday, Gandhi Jayanti.

An idol of Gandhiji was installed by locals at Hosapete Chowk to keep alive the memory of his visit to Gadag in 1944. After Gandhiji's death in 1948, some freedom fighters met the then deputy commissioner and collected Gandhiji's ashes, which they placed in the Betageri temple. Freedom fighters like Sameul Malekar, Hanumansa Bakale, Narayanappa Bagade, Chandsab Bodlekhan, Sankappa Cholin and other residents built a small temple here, but it was roofless.

The idol of Gandhi was at the mercy of wind, dust, heat and rain, and residents had been urging the administration to build a shelter, but it was not happened due to the negligence of officials. To preserve the idol, it was shifted to the Municipal Council premises a few years ago.

It was Deputy Commissioner Sundaresh Babu N who took the initiative and provided funds from the district administration, and Gadag's Nirmiti Kendra took up construction of the temple.

In Betageri, the apostle of peace is worshipped like a god. Schoolchildren and villagers who pass by the temple, stop to offer puja, and women of the area also conduct daily rituals.

Ganesh Singh Byali, a resident of Betageri said, "We all thank our Deputy Commissioner Sundaresh Babu for constructing a new temple for Gandhiji, which was a decades-old demand.

This Gandhi Jayanti is special for all of us and we have decided to celebrate it like a community festival."

Youth Services and Sports Minister KC Narayan Gowda said there was a conspiracy to close the Government Flying Training School (GFTS) at Jakkur in Bengaluru. Gowda, who has taken the initiative to develop GFTS, said it will soon resume operations.

Concerns over nod to build fuel facility at Kudankulam

Assembly Speaker asks govt to consider Sri Lanka port for project

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA & THINAKARAN RAJAMANI @ Chennai/Tirunelveli

THE Atomic Energy Regulatory Board (AERB) has given a 'siting clearance' for Nuclear Power Corporation of India Ltd (NPCIL) to construct Away from Reactor (AFR) spent fuel storage facility for Kudankulam Nuclear Power Plant (KKNPP) units 3 and 4. The units are scheduled to be operational in the next few years. However, activists from the region as well as Speaker and Radhapuram MLA, M Appavu, have expressed concerns about the development.

Like the AFR facility proposed for KKNPP units 1 and 2, this site, too, falls within the plant premises. For the same reason, the previous project has been a non-starter till date. A public hearing that was called in July 2019, in this regard, was postponed indefinitely by the State government fearing protests.

As per the Code for Regulation of Nuclear and Radiation Facilities, there are five stages of consent -- siting, construction, commissioning, operation, and decommissioning – in the lifetime of a nuclear facility. Consent has to be obtained from the AERB for these stages after a detailed safety review. The NPCIL had submitted an application for obtaining consent for the first stage.

In an official communication to NPCIL on August 23, G Nageswara Rao, chairman of the AERB, said based on a review, that was satisfactory, the consent has been granted to set up AFR facility for KKNPP units 3 and 4, subject to satisfactory compliance to the stipulations and conditions. The consent is valid for five years.

The basic condition for choosing a site to build a particular facility is to ensure that the site-plant interaction does not result in radiological impact beyond the levels prescribed by the AERB, and the site is engineerable with regard to external hazards. AFR facility is proposed to be co-located within the main plant boundary of units 5 and 6, the communication stated.

NPCIL and its environmental consultant defended the site location saying, "AFR would be a component of operating KKNPP units 1 and 2, and will be integrated with it as one of the engineered features. It will not change the process/technology or generating capacity of KKNPP 1 and 2. The AFR facility is an operational requirement for KKNPP 1 & 2 to store the spent fuel generated during its lifetime."

Build it in non-residential area, says MLA

Assembly Speaker and Radhapuram MLA, M Appavu, on Thursday urged the Union government to construct the facility at a non-residential region. "The China-owned port in Sri Lanka is not far from the Kudankulam nuclear power plant…I urge the government to construct the facility elsewhere," said Appavu

HC quashes allotment of site to Trust headed by MP's wife

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court quashed the allotment of site to a Trust headed by the wife of BJP MP Umesh G Jadhav and imposed a fine of Rs 1 lakh on Karnataka Housing Board (KHB) for handing over the plot worth Rs 10 crore at a meagre sum of Rs 22 lakh.

Directing the KHB to take possession of the site, a division bench of Acting Chief Justice Satish Chandra Sharma and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum directed the state government to conduct a fact-finding inquiry in the matter. In case officers are found guilty, the KHB should take appropriate action to hold departmental enquiry against them and recover the cost. This exercise should be completed within 6 months, the court added.

Allowing the Public Interest Litigation (PIL) filed by Adinarayanashetty, a resident of Koramangala, against the allotment of site to Murthy Charitable Trust, represented by its president Gayathri, wife of MP Jadhav, the court said that the records show that the conditional sale deed dated August 23, 2004 was not complied with. The KHB has issued another sale deed in 2020 without adhering to allotment regulations, the court added.

During the hearing, advocate H Sunil Kumar, representing the petitioner, vehemently argued that Trust was was favoured by KHB because the president and the act of the officials caused loss to the state's exchequer.

The KHB has executed an absolute sale deed in favour of Trust on July 23, 2020 for a sum of 21.87 lakh, including Rs 3.87 lakh paid for allotment of site in 2004. Despite all this, the condition of sale was violated by the Trust by not constructing the building within two years for educational purpose.

SWR website hacked, no data stolen

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE website of the construction department of the South Western Railway (SWR) was allegedly hacked by an extremist organisation recently. The group also issued an abusive message to the Indian Railways and warned them of similar cyber attacks across India.

According to multiple railway sources, the website www.cnbnc.in, run by the Personnel Department of SWR was hacked on September 21. The message left by the group read: Islamic State has hacked this site. Message to the Alliance: Your government, military, important secured sites are under our cyber attack. As long as you fight the Islamic State, your failed system will continue to be hacked."

The website has details of employees, policy circulars, non-gazetted orders, rest house allotment and other details. "None of the data has been stolen," claimed a source.

Another source familiar with the developments said that this was the second such attack on this website and the previous one had occurred in 2017. General Manager, SWR, Sanjeev Kishore told TNIE, "The software handling our tenders and other operations are quite secure. We have decided to close it down now."

An official statement from SWR said, "Our cyber cell in the Bengaluru Division is aware of the issue."

"SOME of the cleaned oily water, which is stored in the Contaminated Rain Water (CRW) system, must have escaped to the neighbouring storm water channels. We have deployed our gully suckers and we have a super-sucking equipment to remove oil along the path leading to the storm water channel. We have also reported the matter to the Karnataka Pollution Control Board (KSPCB). With their guidance, we will prevent recurrence of this kind of situation. We have plans to deploy oil catchers along the storm water channels," Dr Noronha explained.

KSPCB officer Keerthi Kumar told TNIE that they have collected samples and a notice has been issued to MRPL to take immediate action.

Youth Services and Sports Minister KC Narayan Gowda inspects ongoing works at the Government Flying Training School (GFTS) at Jakkur in Bengaluru | EXPRESS

Jakkur flying school to resume training soon

ENS @ Bengaluru

YOUTH Services and Sports Minister KC Narayan Gowda said that there was a conspiracy to close the Government Flying Training School (GFTS) at Jakkur in Bengaluru. Gowda, who has taken the initiative to develop GFTS, said it will soon restart training aspiring pilots.

Speaking to the media after inspecting ongoing development works at the Jakkur aerodrome, including runway improvement work, he said that vacant posts were not filled for many years, and effort was not made to extend the runway or take action against buildings violating DGCA guidelines.

The process to acquire three-acre land for runway expansion has begun and measures are being taken to get Rs 13 compensation towards giving aerodrome land for the National Highway project, Gowda said. A joint survey along with the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) officials is on to identify buildings that violate the 45-metre height restriction norm within a 5-km radius of the aerodrome and action will be taken against such violations, he added.

Gowda said that runway improvement work will be completed in a week and after that, the school will be reopened as 34 students, including 19 for CPL (Commercial Pilot Licence) have taken admission. DGCA officials have inspected three Cessna aircraft at the school and cleared them for flying. The government has recently appointed a chief flying instructor, two flying instructors and other staff required to resume the training.

Gowda said the government is also planning to further develop the aerodrome.

ACCUSED'S 'SUICIDE'

No evidence of death by electric shock, say docs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

FROM examination of tissues no evidence was found to support the claim of death by 'electric shock' in the case of P Ramkumar, the lone accused in the 2016 murder of 24-year-old techie Swathi, that rocked the State. Histopathology experts had deposed before the State Human Rights Commission (SHRC) on August 18, according to documents shared by P Ramaraj, the advocate appearing on behalf of Ramkumar. SHRC officials, however, neither confirmed nor denied the developments.

According to the police, Ramkumar had killed himself by biting into a live wire when he was lodged at the Puzhal Central Prison in September 2016. In their deposition before the SHRC, Dr Andal Palani and Dr Venu Anand, who were professors at the Government Royapettah Hospital in Chennai at the time, were quoted as saying Ramkumar's brain and heart tissues, on examination on October 7, 2016, were found to be in good condition. Further, tissues from lungs, liver, tongue, lips, spleen, kidneys were also certified to be in good condition.

Responding to questions from the petitioner's counsel on whether the said tissues may exhibit changes in case of an electric shock, the doctors said there may be changes in most cases. However, no such changes were found during the examination. "In examining Ramkumar's tissues, there was no evidence of death by electric shock. We could not ascertain this," the doctors said.

NEW NORMS

Now, online Covid death certificates in Kerala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ T'Puram

IN THE wake of a Supreme Court order to disburse compensation to the families of those who died of coronavirus, the state government has modified the guidelines to declare Covid deaths. The government has also announced a digital service to get Covid death certificates, which will help families of victims excluded from the official list receive the compensation announced. Consequently, the official Covid death toll, which stood at 25,087 on Thursday, is expected to see a jump in the coming days.

Health Minister Veena George said the new norms are based on the modified guidelines issued by the Central government and the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR). After the SC verdict, the Centre has changed the guidelines to include all those who died at home or hospital within 30 days of testing positive for the coronavirus infection in the list of Covid deaths. Similarly, those who remained hospitalised beyond 30 days for Covid treatment, and died subsequently, too are to be included in the list.

The family members of those included in the official Covid death list are eligible for a compensation of ₹50,000. Besides, children who lost parents to Covid will receive a fixed deposit of ₹3 lakh and a monthly aid of ₹2,000 up to 18 years from the woman and child welfare department.

The government has made the issuance of Covid death certificates easier with the help of the website https://covid19.kerala.gov.in/deathinfo/. The government has published the Covid death list on the website. From October 10, people can verify the name of the deceased in the list and file an application online if there are exclusions. There will be a provision to make corrections in the Covid death certificates issued by the health department, the minister said.

Further, Veena said relatives who had already received the death certificate can apply for a new Covid death certificate by providing documents.

MANAGING CHANGE IN THE CONGRESS PARTY

After years of dithering, some attempts are being made to reinvent the Congress, giving it a younger leadership profile. As in any corporate body, restructuring can be a painful process, but it needs to be done from time to time to remain competitive and relevant. The problem within the Congress is not that it is doing it now but that it took so long for it to end the inertia. Those who are not willing to be part of the change can take the freeway to exit; that appears to be the message of Rahul Gandhi and his sister Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, while stamping their authority. Restructuring would necessarily mean chopping the deadwood and letting fresh talent and ideas bloom. That should be fine if the larger goal of robust management change is properly handled, so as to infuse energy to retain and expand its political space. Unfortunately, the way they are going about it in some states is creating imbalances and ruptures, leading to a lot of heartburn.

Lateral entry of talent ought to be welcomed, but giving them prime positions without a thorough assessment of their leadership skills and adequate cooling period could boomerang as it has in Punjab. Remember, celebrated strategist Prashant Kishor was a lateral entrant in the JD(U) with a senior position, but could not jell with its leadership matrix and was eventually expelled. Former JNU students’ union leader Kanhaiya Kumar has just been inducted and the Gandhis appear to be in a hurry to give him an important organisational slot in Bihar. It could trigger dissent within the party’s state unit and put him on a collision course with the RJD’s Tejashwi Yadav, the bigger opposition ally in the state, who is said to despise both Kanhaiya Kumar and Prashant Kishor. But the situation in Bihar is manageable unlike in Punjab, which goes to polls in just about five months. The Punjab unit is not just fractured, the party is haemorrhaging as a humiliated Amarinder Singh breaks away to carve out a new outfit.

However, the setbacks must not detract the Gandhis from their goal of total revamp. A clearly defined Central leadership rejig will send an unambiguous message that they mean business.

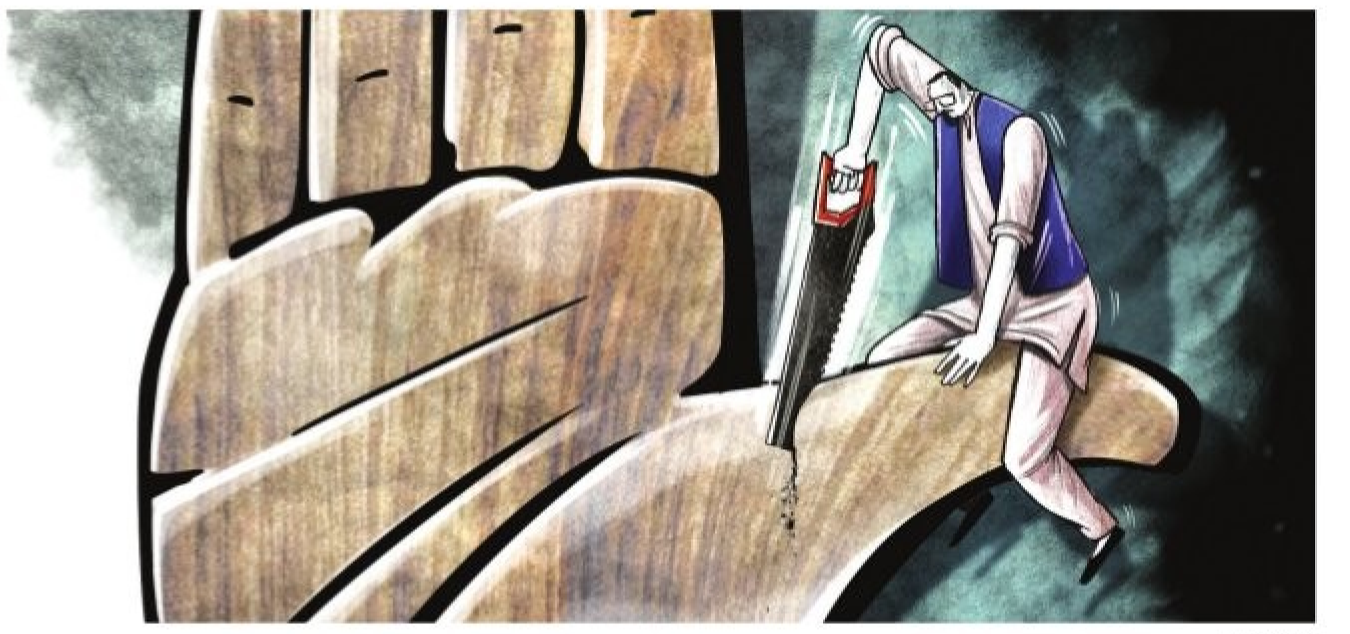
TELANGANA TARIFF HIKE CHALLENGE

The Telangana State Road Transport Corporation (TSRTC) and the two electricity power distribution companies (DISCOMs) in the state have gone belly-up. The ruling class has never allowed them to raise either the bus fares or the power tariffs for fear of political backlash. The power utilities have an accumulated loss of about ₹36,000 crore and the TSRTC has suffered a double whammy—a 52-day-old unsuccessful strike by employees in 2019 and then the two phases of Covid-19. The pandemic alone inflicted a loss of ₹2,600 crore. After the strike, KCR invited employees for lunch at his residence and promised an infusion of ₹1,000 crore annually. He assured them that within four months, the corporation would be back in black. Two years on, not much has happened. The CM now wants the TSRTC to get back to him with a proposal for a fare hike, but any increase at present will further reduce patronage. Instead of raising bus fares now, the RTC could have been asked to improve internal efficiency, increase bus occupancy, use its immovable assets for commercial use and importantly, discourage the illicit operation of private buses on RTC profit-making routes.

Similarly, when it comes to power utilities, the government never permitted the raising of power tariffs except in 2016, when an average hike of 7.5% was allowed. Though the Central Electricity Act gives the freedom to power utilities to raise tariff by 3% every year, they were never allowed to exercise the power since it is a politically sensitive issue. Now the two Titanics are sending out SOS signals. The budget support of ₹10,000 crore to the power utilities is a pittance compared to the gargantuan proportions the losses have acquired. If the utilities had been allowed to raise the tariff every year, there would not have been any need for a steep hike now. Chanakya had said in Arthashastra: “A tax collector should collect taxes like a bee collects honey from a flower without disturbing its petals.” It is relevant even today, though the saying is more than 2,000 years old.

Rahul seems impatient with Rajiv-Sonia-era politicians. On the other side, the party’s centrists have no patience for his electoral misadventures and experiments with leftism

“IS SONIAJI IN DELHI? I DON’T THINK SHE’S HERE ...”



AMIT BANDRE

SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA

Resident Editor, Karnataka, The New Indian Express

That’s coming from Bhupesh Baghel, Congress chief minister of Chhattisgarh. Harmless words of an everyday nature. But we can also read into that an import far beyond their immediate circumstances. Everyday? Yes, crisis is a default state in the Congress. After the shambolic chaos in Punjab, the Congress is also facing a power tussle in Chhattisgarh. It’s the same depressing story. Baghel’s in-house bete noire, T S Singh Deo, feels he too should have a go at power, as a rotational CM. Both sides have their MLAs cooped up in Delhi. Baghel does not know where the ‘interim’ Congress president is, but sounds quite confident. He has, after all, run his state without much of a glitch, and even anchored the Assam election campaign for the party—he may not have delivered a victory, but certainly stalled a wipeout.

Captain Amarinder Singh had no such credentials to flaunt. Neither did he help the Gandhi siblings in other state elections, nor did he quite defer to the ‘high command’ in any way. He differed with Rahul Gandhi’s position on most counts. (Recall the execrable ‘renovation’ of Jallianwala Bagh.) Throughout the debilitating second wave, Captain was incommunicado—for both the high command, including Sonia Gandhi, and the state party. Or so the story went. Stationed in his farmhouse, he met his high-level friends in Delhi media, and whoever else he felt he needed to meet ... throw in doctors and health officials.

Forget that this was dodgy ethics, in terms of what’s expected of political leadership during a crisis. It was bad tactics. The ground shifted beneath his feet. His ouster was being scripted right there, in Delhi and Punjab. On home ground, his ‘popularity’ among the people and support among the MLAs were being questioned by a very ambitious Navjot Singh Sidhu. Captain was guilty of letting his martial instincts relax with the sense—fond hopes?—of an easy win in the coming Assembly polls.

Now 80, the Rajiv Gandhi-era politician maintains the regal aura of a Patiala maharaja. However, Rahul Gandhi seems impatient to bring about a fundamental change—a desire to subalternise the Congress. His understanding of the Congress role in the social, political and economic churn India is witnessing presently seems to be that of an enabling element, if not a harbinger. He apparently keeps repeating that, in the last 70 years, it’s the Congress that has steered all major course-corrections and brought radical changes in the polity—which may sound counter-intuitive if you look at its history as the ‘establishment’ party. It’s this thinking that led to him choosing Charanjit Singh Channi as the first Dalit chief minister of Punjab.

What Rahul, however, often fails to factor in when he considers the effects of what are ultimately top-down changes, is whether they can work and win a mandate. Plunging a state into a political crisis for the sake of an experimental change, that too just three months before an election, often achieves little or nothing. Those thoughts may have been activated, with way more deep-going effects, much before the Punjab Congress got trapped in a ‘Captain-Joker’ duopoly. But let us grant the honesty of the desire to bring change, even if at face value.

> What Rahul often fails to factor in when he considers the effects of what are ultimately top-down changes, is whether they can work and win a mandate. But let us grant the honesty of the desire to bring change, even if at face value

Tactically, of course, it may hand a shot in the arm for a rival who had no chance. A humiliated Captain may not join the BJP, but he could refloat his own party and later tie up with them. That will damage not just the mercurial Sidhu, or the Akalis, but also the Congress. If the prime minister does decide to roll back the farm laws, Captain will have no problem claiming credit for it, saying he brought about a historic change via his meeting with Amit Shah and Ajit Doval, and then get into an alliance. Even if Sidhu is successful in finding some traction for the 2015 Bargari sacrilege case, and pressurises Channi to remove top cops and the A-G, it would be a fight between two issues. That’s not counting the AAP, which is very much in the fight.

The irony is that a new Dalit CM has been burdened with so much. He has to deliver on many fronts in three months or face defeat in a state where the Congress had everything going for it. The irony is deepened when you consider that the Punjab crisis is a bigger rerun of what happened in Uttarakhand, where too the Congress had a fair chance. Now, former CM Harish Rawat is so busy firefighting in Punjab that he has nearly forgotten about his own state. Let’s not even get to Goa and Luizinho Faleiro, another former CM who has joined Mamata Banerjee’s TMC.

There’s a fundamental mismatch in political ethos at the centre of all this. Rahul clearly seems impatient with Rajiv-Sonia-era Congress politicians. That’s why he gladly takes the risk of getting in young, fire-breathing Kanhaiya Kumar and Jignesh Mevani. On the other side, the centrist career politicians of the Congress have no patience for Rahul’s electoral misadventures and experiments with social engineering or leftism. They make no bid to hide their exasperation on the Gandhi family’s procrastination on leadership. The national trend? CMs are the trendsetters. Stalin, with his political decorum; Naveen Patnaik, with his hockey patronage and disaster management; Mamata Banerjee, who wants to win India, not just Bhawanipur! The Congress is offering neither a solid Delhi face nor clarity in the states, with the young Gandhi siblings’ disinclination to let the CMs have their own way. That’s neither here, nor there.

QUAD ERAT FACIENDUM: SUMMIT SIGNALS HOPE

OOPALEE OPERAJITA

Distinguished Fellow at Carnegie Mellon University

Quod erat Faciendum: that which was to be done (is done). It has been done by the Quad of four democracies (India, Australia, Japan and the US), at a high-profile and seamless summit, September 24, in Washington DC. I have to fess up to not expecting this degree of seamlessness; but, occasionally, life, and diplomacy, tend to throw pleasant surprises at you. A welcome change signalling hope, and collective democratic and strategic strength, in our fragmented, pandemic-ridden, untrustworthy and terror-infested times.

Singled out for significant cooperation are Quad partnerships in: cybersecurity (at the topmost levels of national leadership), green shipping networks, clean hydrogen, climate and infrastructure, the distribution of the Covid-19 vaccine, an initiative to set up a baseline preparedness for future pandemics, the dissemination of 5G, Quad technologies, and the creation of a 100 Quad STEM fellowships. There was no explicit articulation of defence collaboration, but partnerships in defence are visible, potent and long extant—witness, for example, the MALABAR exercises, coupled with several meetings between ranking defence chiefs. Top-level meetings will continue until the next summit, contributing to a greater formalisation of the Quad.

This augurs rather well for India, which finds itself vulnerable after August 15, given the in-your-face contagion of terrorism perpetrated by Pakistan, the Taliban, ISIS-K, Al Qaeda and other bellicose terrorist groups in its neighbourhood, now all cranked up anew, and ready to blast away.

In this regard, the joint statement that the White House released acquires significance. An important excerpt reads: “We reaffirm that Afghan territory should not be used to threaten or attack any country or to shelter or train terrorists, or to plan or to finance terrorist acts, and reiterate the importance of combating terrorism in Afghanistan. We denounce the use of terrorist proxies and emphasized the importance of denying any logistical, financial or military support to terrorist groups which could be used to launch or plan terror attacks, including cross-border attacks. We stand together in support of Afghan nationals, and call on the Taliban to ensure that . . . the human rights of all Afghans, including women, children and minorities are represented.”

World leaders can only make a request, but the Taliban continues with its gory executions and annihilation each day, even as its council of ministers puts out innumerable messages about how “progressive” it is. Afghan women and girls bear the brunt of this assault on fundamental rights, and have been tragically thrust back into the dark ages.

Back to the Quad, I am particularly delighted with the announcement of 100 STEM scholarships in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics for graduate students from all four partner countries, under the leadership of Schmidt Ventures, a philanthropic initiative, with remarkably generous support from Accenture, Blackstone, Boeing, Google, MasterCard and Western Digital. This initiative will prepare the next generation of STEM talent to lead the Quad and similar partnerships in the future.

Where does this leave China? Entirely out of its depth. The C-word did not find a single articulation at the summit, but the Common Threat is a truculent and unpredictable China; and the Quad is now well set up to counter its inevitable machinations, manoeuvres and manipulation. China has picked up on this and is acutely aware of the Quad being a “consequential threat” to its hegemony, as former Australian prime minister Kevin Rudd mentioned. What I also detect here is a robust and timely safety net and crucial backup for India, against both Chinese and Pakistani-jihad aggression.

> It must gall Pakistan that the CEOs of many of the industry supporters of the Quad STEM fellowships are of Indian origin, and often themselves outstanding examples of the rich and permanent harvest a fine STEM education can generate. The alternative Pakistan proffers is jihad and its Wehrmacht, and destabilisation in the subcontinent

And where does this leave Pakistan? Not in a felicitous place. Imran Khan’s address at the UN General Assembly was one where he successfully evicted every scintilla of coherence or sanity, brimming over as it was with Pakistan’s bugbearish obsession with India, and India’s lauded and substantive achievement in, and contribution to, the global knowledge economy.

It must gall Pakistan that the CEOs of many of the aforementioned industry supporters of the Quad STEM fellowships—as well as of other major companies in the US—are of Indian origin, and often themselves outstanding examples of the rich and permanent harvest a fine STEM education can generate. The alternative Pakistan proffers is jihad and its Wehrmacht, destabilisation in the subcontinent, and the bankrolling of a decimation of Afghanistan and its beautiful, ancient civilisation.

In this context, the militant, predictable howls, and irrelevant, trite commentary from a certain enclave of the Indian media are risible. It is focused on whether President Biden rejected a hug from Prime Minister Modi (he did not: no hug was in the offing); whether Vice President Kamala Harris schooled Modi on democracy (she was reading off a well-known script, which only the obsessive and woke media reads non-existent meanings into); and, finally, on why it took Harris as long as it did to tweet about her meeting with Modi (they would have been elated if she didn’t). World leaders have impossibly packed itineraries, and I don’t believe Twitter was at the forefront of Harris’s mind during this crucial summit. Harris is also known to be a laid-back tweeter, having tweeted about an African leader’s visit a full two days after the event.

The media alluding to the US “nudging India” about human rights and democracy per its parsing of the joint communique is, yet again, a figment of its imagination. The emphasis was on the strengthening of our respective democracies. The US doesn’t exactly have a sterling historical record on race relations. That old media gambit didn’t work during Secretary of State Blinken’s visit to India; and it absolutely does not, now. The media needs to give it a rest. The Americans are intelligent enough to construe their own shortcomings, and would, in their wisdom, hesitate to alienate a major and indispensable democratic ally such as India.

Booster doses for Covid

Observing the pattern of Covid-19 in India thus far, the infection could plateau off as an endemic, with minor epidemic waves appearing from time to time (A vax strategy for endemic Covid in India, Sep 30). In such a scenario, annual booster doses of the vaccine, much in line with the flu shot being administered in the West, might have to be adopted.

Family’s mistakes

This is with reference to Gandhis wait for Sidhu to blink, CM go-between (Sep 30). The Congress high command was infatuated with Navjot Singh Sidhu, a maverick who was with the BJP not long ago and was then cosying up to the AAP, whereas Captain Amarinder Singh was a leader loyal to the party. Despite numerous leaders leaving the Congress and senior party members asking the high command to stem the rot, the rigidity shown by the leadership is an implicit response that says the family’s decisions cannot be questioned.

K Jayanthi, Chennai

Lessons for high command

The Punjab issue was started by Sidhu and mishandled by the high command. Sidhu clearly has an eye on the CM’s chair and did not bother about the damage his action will do to his party when an election to the state Assembly is due next year. Sonia Gandhi should have prevailed upon Sidhu to wait for his time. The Captain’s resignation, and now Sidhu’s, should be lessons for the Congress high command.

Trying to silence Sibal

Kabil Sibal’s remarks show that the Congress is not only struggling in Punjab but is also not able to find a solution to the long-pending leadership vacuum. Now party cadre have tried to silence him just for saying that there should not be any monopolies and that dialogue should be welcomed.

Prevent brain drain

This is with reference to Chasing the dream of technological excellence (Sep 30). China has made huge technological advances. We have excellent educational institutions such as the IITs all over the country. The nation has spent large amounts of public money in creating such institutions but brain drain is preventing our progress. To prevent this, the government should bring in a condition that those studying in such premier institutions have to compulsorily work in India for a period of around five years. As rightly pointed out by the distinguished author, R&D projects with public-private participation must be taken up to attract the best talents to help the nation progress.

B Sarit Kumar, Kerala

More funds for R&D

Though both China and India have developed in the last 75 years, we are still far behind the former in technology. While we import our defence equipment requirements, China is far ahead in indigenous production. The fact that we now emphasise self-reliance speaks of our dependence on China for various components. As stated, our budget allocation to R&D is paltry and the government ought to increase allocation of funds.

One in four Indians now fully immunised against Covid-19

There are 7 states where less than 60% of adult population is covered with at least one dose

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE government on Thursday expressed concern over the slow pace of Covid-19 vaccination in seven states where less than 60 per cent of the population is covered with at least one dose. These states include Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and West Bengal, Jharkhand.

In a press briefing on Covid-19 status in the country, Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan, however, highlighted that 69 per cent of the adult population in India is now at least partially vaccinated while 25 per cent of the 18-plus age group is fully immunised.

He also underlined that the average daily vaccination in September has been more than 79 lakh doses —which is over four times the average daily vaccinations carried out in May, when the inoculations opened for all adults.

As per the data shared, there are six states and Union Territories where 100 per cent of the adult population has received at least one shot of the Covid vaccine while in six others, more than 80 per cent population is partially vaccinated.

The number of states with 60-80 per cent population covered with one dose is 15, while there are six states and UTs where less than 60 per cent of the population is partially vaccinated.

Also, while nearly 85 per cent of the healthcare workers are now fully immunised, 82 per cent of the frontline workers have also received both jabs against coronavirus.

Bhushan, while pointing that 18 districts in India are still reporting a weekly positivity between 5 to 10 per cent, reiterated that festivals have to be celebrated low-key this year too, in order to curb the spread of the infectious disease.

"The rate of (Covid test) positivity is coming down...This is the 13th week continuously when the weekly positivity rate stands below 3 per cent but our target should be to bring down this rate further. The state governments must target this," the health secretary added.

16 names cleared for elevation as HC judges

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court collegium, headed by Chief Justice of India N V Ramana, has recommended 16 names for elevation as judges of the high courts of Bombay, Gujarat, Orissa and Punjab and Haryana.

After assuming charge as the CJI in April, Justice Ramana has recommended nearly 100 names for appointment to different high courts, besides filling up nine vacancies of judges in the Supreme Court in one go. But apart from the SC appointments, the others are yet to be cleared by the government.

In its meeting held on Wednesday, the collegium approved the proposal for elevation of 16 names — six judicial officers and 10 advocates — as judges of the four high courts.

Previously, the collegium meetings used to take place once or twice a month only, but now the meetings are taking place once every week.

As per the statements uploaded on the Supreme Court website, the collegium has approved the proposal for elevation of four judicial officers — AL Pansare, SC More, US Joshi-Phalke and BP Deshpande — as judges of the Bombay High Court.

It has recommended the names of advocates Aditya Kumar Mohapatra and Mruganka Sekhar Sahoo and judicial officers Radha Krishna Pattanaik and Sashikanta Mishra for elevation as judges of the Orissa High Court.

For the Gujarat High Court, the collegium has approved the proposal for elevation of seven advocates — Mauna Manish Bhatt, Samir J Dave, Hemant M Prachchhak, Sandeep N Bhatt, Aniruddha Pradyumna Mayee, Niral Rashmikant Mehta and Nisha Mahendrabhai Thakore — as judges.

The collegium, in its meeting held on September 29, approved the elevation of advocate Sandeep Moudgil as a judge in the Punjab and Haryana HC, said one of the statements uploaded on the SC website.

Can highways remain blocked perpetually, asks upset Supreme Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN the backdrop of road blockades by the farmers protesting against the agri laws for past 10 months, the Supreme Court on Thursday questioned how the highways can remain blocked "perpetually".

A bench of Justices Sanjay Kishan Kaul and MM Sundresh asked, "The redressal of problems can be through judicial forum, agitation or through Parliamentary debates. But how can the highways be blocked and this is happening perpetually. Where does this end?"

The bench made the observation while hearing a plea by a Noida resident, who submitted that commuters were facing difficulties due to protests at Uttar Pradesh -Delhi border.

The court pulled up the government and asked Additional Solicitor General KM Nataraj what the administration had done in the matter. "We may lay down a law but how to implement the law is your business. The court cannot implement it. It is the executive who has to implement it," the bench noted, and allowed the Union government to file an application seeking farmer unions' participation in the matter.

Nataraj submitted that details of a meeting with farmer unions were mentioned in the affidavit. The bench noted, "This has ramifications but there are also grievances which need to be addressed. This cannot be a perpetual problem."

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta apprised the court that a top-level three-member committee was established for grievance redressal, but farmers' representatives turned down the invitation to the discussions. The matter has now been slated for hearing on October 4. Recently, UP and Haryana governments had filed separate affidavits stating that despite sincere efforts, farmers were not relenting.

SC seeks Adani Power reply on ending contract

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday asked Adani Power (Mundra) Ltd to respond within three weeks to a curative plea of Gujarat Urja Vikas Nigam Ltd (GUVNL) challenging the 2019 SC verdict which upheld the private firm's termination of a pact with the state PSU.

A five-judge Constitution bench headed by CJI N V Ramana and took note of the submissions of senior advocates Harish Salve and Mukul Rohatgi, appearing for Adani Power, that some time may be granted for filing the response to the GUVNL and slated the hearing for November 17.

Earlier this month, the bench agreed to hear in an open court the GUVNL's curative petition which, as per industry estimates, has to pay nearly ₹11,00 crore compensation to Adani Power. "In our prima facie opinion, there are substantial questions of law raised in this curative petition, which require consideration," the bench had ordered while listing the plea for hearing.

A three-judge bench had in July 2019 held that the notice of termination of a Power Purchase Agreement or PPA between Adani Power and GUVNL in 2009 was legal. It had ordered the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission to determine compensatory tariff for the power supplied by Adani Power to the state PSU.

Adani Power had signed a PPA with GUVNL to supply 1,000 MW power from its project located in Chhattisgarh. It terminated the pact citing non-coal supply by Gujarat Mineral Development Corporation. This was challenged by GUVNL before the Gujarat Electricity Regulatory Commission which held the termination illegal.

'Quad not meant for containment of China'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AUSTRALIAN Prime Minister Scott Morrison on Thursday refuted China's statement referring to Quad as a grouping created to counter China's growing assertiveness in the Indo-Pacific region.

Morrison said in an online briefing with Indian journalists that the bloc's objective was to ensure a free and open Indo-Pacific and welcomed China to be a partner in the endeavour.

"Everybody who wants to participate in that, including China, is a welcome partner in that cause. We don't really want to see the region in such binary terms. That's not how the Quad is approaching the challenges that we see in the region," he said.

"Of course, we want to deter any type of behaviour that threatens peace and security in the region, that threatens the development and prosperity of countries in the region, or in any way seeks to limit their sovereignty or their access to the freedoms that exist under international law," Morrison said.

"It is certainly that from Australia's perspective and I would be so bold to assume that this would be India's view, too. We are not seeking in any way to constrain China's growth," the Australian Prime Minister added.

He said all the countries in the region did not have the same political systems and outlooks. "We have a very multilateral view of the Indo-Pacific, not a binary one."

On AUKUS (Australia-UK -US), Morrison said it would complement partnerships like the Quad and added that there was a "very warm embrace" of the deal by India and Japan, which totally understood and supported what it sought to achieve.

CWC meet soon, says Cong as some defend leadership, others rally for Sibal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A day after Kapil Sibal's sharp attack on the party brass over the unsettled leadership issue, Congress' chief spokesperson Randeep Surjewala said the Congress Working Committee (CWC) would meet "very soon". Party chief Sonia Gandhi had indicated before leaving for Shimla last week that a meeting of the party's top decision-making body would be called very soon, he said.

On Wednesday, Sibal and Ghulam Nabi Azad, who are part of the disgruntled G-23 that has been seeking organisational revamp, demanded that the CWC meeting be immediately convened to discuss the situation in the party the wake of defections and the mess in Punjab and other state units.

The Congress, meanwhile, appeared to be split into two groups, with one coming out strongly in defence of the high command and the other condemning the "orchestrated hooliganism" against Sibal, who took barbs at the leadership on Wednesday saying G-23 was not Ji Huzoor 23.

Azad and other senior leaders such as P Chidambaram, Anand Sharma, Bhupinder Singh Hooda, Shashi Tharoor, Vivek Tankha and Raj Babbar, some of whom are part of G23, condemned the "attack" at Sibal's house by Congress workers saying it was against Congress culture.

Some other leaders such as Bhupesh Baghel, Pawan Khera, Ashwini Kumar and Tariq Anwar criticised Sibal. Party leaders must not go public with the internal matters for the sake of discipline and also because it hurts the ground level workers, these leaders said.

All these cases are from KEM Hospital; 27 fully vaccinated in the infected list; all of them are residents of same hostel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

SENDING shockwaves, fully vaccinated 27 medical students of Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) run KEM Hospital in Mumbai have tested positive for COVID-19. In addition, two MBBS students, who were not vaccinated, tested positive as well.

Dean Dr Hemant Deshmukh has confirmed that some of the students of KEM Medical College and Hospital have tested positive. "Out of the 29 MBBS students, 23 are from the second-year medical course, while the six are from the first-year medical course. The 27 students had been fully vaccinated," he said.

"Most of these students participated in a cultural event in the college. They did not use masks nor did they follow the social distancing norms during this programme. That could have caused them the infection," added Dr Deshmukh.

While one of the students, who had mild COVID-19 symptoms, has been admitted to the Seven Hills Hospital, the other students are asymptomatic. They have been home quarantined.

Mumbai Mayor Kishori Pednekar said most of the medical students who tested positive were vaccinated with at least one dose of vaccine. "Some of them were fully vaccinated," she said.

All these infected students were staying in a hostel inside the hospital complex located at Parel in Central Mumbai.

Mamata Banerjee leaves after casting her vote in Bhowanipore | PTI

Moderate turnout in Didi stronghold, polling peaceful

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

VOTING was peaceful in Bhowanipore, Samsherganj and Jangipur on Thursday with the high-profile South Kolkata constituency from where Mamata Banerjee contested recording moderate turnout of 53.32 per cent polling till 5 pm.

In contrast, Samsherganj and Jangipur reported 78.6 and 76.12 per cent polling till 5 pm.

Heavy security arrangements were put in place at Bhowanipore with nearly 40 companies of central force personnel manning 287 polling booths. Despite the security apparatus, the BJP claimed its leader Kalyan Choubey was attacked and windshield of his vehicle was smashed. The TMC denied the allegation.

Bhowanipore is Mamata's stronghold as she was elected twice from the seat. The TMC is confident of winning all three seats.

Mamata is contesting against BJP's Priyanka Tibrewal and CPI(M)'s Srijib Biswas. The bypoll is being keenly watched as Mamata is contesting to enter the Bengal Assembly courtesy a win while the BJP is eyeing a re-run of Nandigram where the CM lost to her protege-turned-rival Suvendu Adhikari.

Priyanka continued visiting polling booths throughout the day. "I caught a false voter, who came from another constituency, red handed. TMC's youth wing leaders sent him to cast vote. This how the ruling party is conducting the by-election to ensure Mamata's win," she alleged.

The BJP lodged a complaint with the EC requesting to restrict movement of TMC ministers Subrata Mukherjee and Firhad Hakim in the constituency alleging that they were visiting polling booths and influencing electorates. "This is completely baseless allegation. I did not visit a single polling booth. I travelled along the road without stopping anywhere. I am sitting in a party camp in my locality," said Hakim.

Nothing wrong in having info on state demography: Dhami

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Dehradun

UTTARAKHAND CM Pushkar Singh Dhami on Thursday justified taking action to keep a check on the 'demographic changes' in the local population, saying that the steps were meant to safeguard the people of the state.

The government must have record of those arriving from outside without any paperwork, he added. "It is not wrong to keep vigil and remain alert. The government must have information about the people coming from outside for work and staying in the state."

Last week, the Uttarakhand government citing increase in population in certain areas which is causing 'demographic change' resulting into 'migration of some communities from those areas', issued directions to take steps for finding a 'solution of the problem'. There is also an apprehension of disturbance in communal harmony, a government release said. It, however, did not name any community.

Of the 13 districts in Uttarakhand, at least five reported either change in demography at some level or increase in population of a certain community, including those from Nepal.

Authorities said the population of a community has reached 37.39% of the total population in Haridwar. "Jwalapur, Bahadarabad, Saray, Sitapur, Ferupur, Sultanpur, Roshanabad and various other localities have registered growth in the population of a community," said an official.

In border areas of Pithoragarh and Champawat, manual labourers from Nepal were found in substantial numbers.

Kanpur bizman suffered coma due to injuries

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE row over Manish Gupta's death deepened after the postmortem report revealed that he died because of 'coma due to injuries.'

After a panel of two doctors did the autopsy under video camera on Tuesday, the report lists various injuries including abrasions, contusions on the forehead and right hand of body. A swelling was also found in the middle of the victim's head along with a cut above the right elbow joint and injuries on the upper lip. The injury on the forehead was major which caused swelling.

Gupta had allegedly sustained injuries during a police raid at his hotel room in Gorakhpur as the police allegedly beat him up brutally when he asked them the reason for the raid. He had succumbed to his injuries at BRD Medical College on Monday midnight.

Giving details of the report, police said that three lacerated wounds were found on the right hand. The report confirms that cause of death was anti-mortem injuries.

Police officers, however, claimed that said that all injuries were caused as Gupta had fallen down towards right side.

SHO Ramgarhtal police station Jagat Narain Singh, Sub-Inspectors Akshay Mishra, Vijay Yadav and Mridul Dubey, head constable Kamlesh Yadav and constable Prashant Kumar are suspended in the case.

On the complaint filed by the victim's wife Meenakshi, an FIR was lodged against the SHO and SIs. Three unnamed personnel have also been booked in the case. All the cops have been charged with murder under Section 302 of IPC.

Meanwhile, a video had surfaced showing the Gorakhpur DM and SSP trying to convince the family not to lodge an FIR.

ADG, Gorakhpur zone, Akhil Kumar said that the case was handed over to crime branch of the police. He said that the SSP was directed to set up a team to look into all the aspects and conduct a fair probe into the incident. "So that the guilty police could be punished adequately," he added.

Controlling crowds

The Dakshineswar temple will remain shut on the morning of Mahalaya (October 6) to avoid congregations of those who gather at the three adjacent ghats to perform 'tarpan'. Belur Math will also remain shut on Mahalaya. "We have decided to keep Belur Math shut to visitors on the occasion of Mahalaya, Durga Puja and Chhath Puja," said an official of the Math. Barring the days mentioned by the official, Belur Math will remain open to visitors from 8 am to 11 am and again 3.30 pm to 5 pm. Visitors need to show their Covid vaccination certificates and identity proof to enter the math premises.

JU going for online mode in pandemic times

Altogether 182 teachers of Jadavpur University have taken financial help from the institute to buy hardware and peripherals as teaching aid during the Covid pandemic. Each teacher has been given ₹50,000 as interest free salary advance. One of the teachers said the need to procure hardware like desktops and laptops, and peripherals line routers and scanners was on the rise as online classes and examinations would continue for quite some time. According to him, even if the campus reopens after the restive season, chances are that only final-year students will be called in for classes. A notice said the University considered the proposal to provide support towards teaching aid especially in the pandemic area where online teaching is compulsory.

Taking care of heart

BM Birla Heart Research Centre conducted an interactive session on World Heart Day highlighting clinical excellence and nuances in the treatment of cardiology in the post Covid time. Prominent cardiologists Anil Mishra, Anjan Siotia and Ashok B Malpani attended the event which dealt with experiences of patients from states like Tamil Nadu, Delhi, Maharashtra and Karnataka who underwent complicated cardiac procedures right in the midst of the pandemic. Birla Hospitals COO Simmardeep Gill emphasised on taking precautionary measures. "During the last one-and-a-half-year, most of the healthcare units were thronged with cardiac patients. One of the reasons behind this surge was the sceptical attitude of the society towards their routine check-up," said Gill.

UG seats up for grabs

The higher education department has asked government-aided colleges and unitary universities to reopen the online portal for undergraduate admissions, if required, because seats are lying vacant. The department had earlier pushed back the last date for submission of UG applications from August 20 to August 27 as many applicants were still awaiting the higher secondary review results. An official of the education department said the decision to allow aided colleges and unitary universities to reopen the admission portal was taken as it has been observed that a good number of seats are vacant.

US, China hold military-level talks as ties dip

Both sides reaffirm consensus to keep their communication channels open

BEIJING

DEFENCE officials from China and the US have held two days of talks in a small sign of progress amid a continuing sharp downturn in relations between the two countries.

The secure video conference held on Tuesday and Wednesday was led by Major General Huang Xueping, deputy direct of the People's Liberation Army's Office for International Military Cooperation, and US Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for China Michael Chase.

Chinese Defence Ministry spokesperson Wu Qian on Thursday said the sides "exchanged in-depth views on relations between the two countries and the two militaries and issues of common concern."

However, he blamed "continuous provocation and containment" of China by the US for the "considerable difficulties and challenges" between the two militaries.

"China's sovereignty, dignity and core interests brook no violations," Wu said at a monthly briefing. "Regarding the relationship between the two armed forces, we welcome communication, welcome cooperation, face differences and oppose coercion." In a statement issued in Washington, Department of Defence spokesperson Lt Col Martin Meiners said the meeting was "an important component of the Biden-Harris administration's ongoing effort to responsibly manage the competition between the US and the PRC by maintaining open lines of communication with the PRC."

During the talks, he said the two sides held "a frank, in-depth, and open discussion on a range of issues."

"Both sides reaffirmed consensus to keep communication channels open. The US also made clear our commitment to uphold shared principles with our allies and partners in the Indo-Pacific region," he said.

Relations between China and the US are facing the worst strain in decades over a range of issues. AP

US, Philippines reassess 70-yr-old defence treaty

US and Philippine military officials have held initial talks to reassess the future of their countries' 70-year Mutual Defence Treaty, including revising it in a possible move that has made China wary, the Philippine defence chief said Thursday. The 1951 treaty commits the United States and the Philippines to come to the aid of the other in case of an attack. A Philippine diplomat has told The Associated Press that China may be concerned Philippine and US officials might insert provisions that could threaten Beijing's security interests if the treaty were amended

Jail till death for cop in rape case that shocked UK

LONDON

A UK police officer was on Thursday sentenced to spend the rest of his life in jail for the kidnap, rape and murder of Sarah Everard.

Wayne Couzens, 48, abducted the 33-year-old marketing executive in south London in March, after falsely arresting her on the pretence she had broken Covid restrictions.

Her disappearance sparked one of Britain's most high-profile missing persons investigations and protests calling for better safety for women in public spaces.

The judge said that Couzens' use of his police status to carry out the "grotesque" offences warranted the highest penalty, a rare whole-life jail term for which there is no possibility of parole. The sentence means Couzens joins 60 other of Britain's most dangerous criminals who will die behind bars.

Prime Minister Boris Johnson said he was "sickened" at Couzens' crimes, and that the officer had acted in "total betrayal" of his role to protect the public.

Couzens, who served with the elite diplomatic protection unit of London's Metropolitan Police, admitted kidnapping, rape and murder at a hearing in July and was sacked.

Sentencing Couzens at the Old Bailey in central London, judge Adrian Fulford said his actions were "devastating, tragic and wholly brutal" and his victim was "wholly blameless".

"The misuse of a police officer's role such as occurred in this case in order to kidnap, rape and murder a lone victim is of equal seriousness as a murder for the purpose of advancing a political, religious ideological cause," he added.

Former colleagues said he had disgraced their uniform, while the Met said it was "sickened, angered and devastated" by his crimes.

Everard's family said they were relieved at the severity of the sentence. "The world is a safer place with him imprisoned," they said in a statement.

The high-profile case refocused attention on how the police handle complaints of violence against women and girls in Britain.

"No woman should have to fear harassment or violence. We will do everything possible to prevent these abhorrent crimes and keep our communities safe," said Johnson.

But questions have been raised about failures to address previous complaints of indecent exposure against Couzens, said to have been a user of sex workers and violent pornography. AFP

U.S. LAWMAKERS AGREE ON BILL TO AVERT SHUTDOWN

THE US SENATE ANNOUNCED IT WOULD VOTE ON A STOPGAP FUNDING BILL THURSDAY TO PREVENT A GOVERNMENT SHUTDOWN WITH JUST HOURS TO SPARE.

STOP-GAP MEASURE

Senate Democrats say they will pass temporary legislation early Thursday, hours before the money runs out, to keep the lights on until December 3

The bill, which includes $6.3 billion to help Afghan refugees and $28.6 billion in disaster aid, is expected to have broad cross-party support and should advance from the House of Representatives to Biden's desk soon after the Senate gives its green light

"Today the Senate will pass a continuing resolution that will eliminate the possibility of a government shutdown tonight," Chuck Schumer, the top Democratic senator said

BIDEN'S BIGGER FIGHT

With the threat of the shutdown off the table, Democratic leadership would be free to focus on raising the debt ceiling and passing Biden's sputtering domestic agenda—a $1.2 trillion infrastructure plan and a $3.5 trillion spending plan

The bills are central to Biden's legacy, but both risk failing because of feuding between the Democrats' progressive and centrist factions

In a sign of the jitters unsettling the West Wing, Biden canceled a Wednesday trip to Chicago, instead staying in Washington to lobby holdouts ahead of an uncertain House vote on infrastructure

The Democratic-led House passed a standalone bill to suspend the debt ceiling until December 16 next year, with support from just one Republican. But it is doomed to fail in the Senate with no backing from the opposition

Republicans say they won't help, despite having pressed for hikes under former president Donald Trump, because they want no part in the Democrats' historically large package of social reforms

We have a path to usher in a new era of economic growth that benefits everybody, not just those at the top, with the Build Back Better Agenda and Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal - Joe Biden

Former French prez Sarkozy convicted of campaign fraud

PARIS

A French court on Thursday handed former president Nicolas Sarkozy a one-year prison sentence for illegal financing of his 2012 re-election bid, dealing a fresh blow to the right-winger seven months after he received a jail term for corruption.

Sarkozy, 66, will not serve time behind bars under the terms of Thursday's verdict, with the court ruling that he could serve it at home by wearing an electronic bracelet.

He was not in court to hear the judge impose the maximum sentence for illegal campaign financing after finding that Sarkozy had "voluntarily neglected to exercise oversight over the spending incurred."

Sarkozy's lawyer Thierry Herzog said his client would appeal the conviction.

Sarkozy spent nearly twice the legal limit of 22.5 million euros ($26 million) on his failed bid for a second term in office.

The case is one of several arising from a string of investigations into Sarkozy's affairs, which have largely failed to dent his popularity among conservative voters.

Sarkozy pulled out all the stops in 2012 as he sought to fend off his Socialist rival Francois Hollande for a second term.

A series of lavish US-style election rallies caused his costs to spiral, with the final bill coming to at least 42.8 million euros.

The public relations firm Bygmalion, hired to organise the events, set up a system of fake invoices to mask the real cost of the events. AFP

Britney relieved as court strikes down father's guardianship

LOS ANGELES

BRITNEY Spears' father was removed from his controversial role as his daughter's guardian on Wednesday by a Los Angeles judge, ending a long and bitter legal battle by the pop princess.

Jamie Spears was suspended with immediate effect and replaced with a temporary conservator "in the best interests" of the singer, said Judge Brenda Penny, calling the present arrangement "untenable."

Spears' father has controlled her life for the past 13 years, under a legal arrangement the 39-year-old US singer has slammed as "abusive."

In the US, when a person is considered to have a severely diminished mental capacity, a court can step in and grant someone the power to make financial decisions and major life choices for them.

California law says a conservatorship is justified for a "person who is unable to provide properly for his or her personal needs for physical health, food, clothing, or shelter," or for someone who is "substantially unable to manage his or her own financial resources."

In 2007 and 2008, shortly after she became a mother, she began to have very public mental struggles, with media outlets. Hordes of paparazzi aggressively followed her every time she left her house, and she no longer seemed able to handle it. She attacked one cameraman's car with an umbrella. When she refused to turn over her boys after a visit, she was hospitalised and put on a psychiatric hold. The conservatorship was put in place within days.

Third gender category in new census

Nepal has introduced a third gender category in its census for the first time, a move the Himalayan nation's LGBTQ community hopes will bring them greater rights. Officials from the Central Bureau of Statistics have been visiting homes across the country of 30 million people since Saturday, giving respondents the option of choosing "others" as their gender, alongside male and female. Nepal already has some of South Asia's most progressive laws on homosexuality and transgender rights, with landmark reforms passed in 2007 prohibiting gender or sexual orientation discrimination. A third gender category for citizenship documents was introduced in 2013 and Nepal began issuing passports with the "others" category two years later

Lawyer's house arrest for 787 days illegal, says UN

WASHINGTON

THE United Nations High Commissioner on Human Rights on Thursday said the continuing house arrest of Steven Donziger, an American activist-lawyer who won a landmark case against oil giant Chevron in Ecuador, is illegal under international law.

He has been under house arrest for close to 800 days. The UN body has called on the US to release him.

Donziger sued Chevron in 1993, arguing that oil drilling by the company has caused environmental damages in Ecuador. A court in Ecuador in 2011 ordered Chevron to pay $9.5 billion in damages to the indegenous community.

However, the oil giant made it clear that it won't pay the amount, and instead, in 2014, it filed a lawsuit in a US court, saying Donziger won the case through unfair means. A US federal judge, known for his pro-industry stance, ruled that the proceedings in the Ecuadorian court were "not fair or impartial and did not comport with the requirements of due process".

In 2019, Donziger was placed under house arrest after he accused the court of bias.

"The charges against and detention of Donziger appears to be retaliation for his work as a legal representative of indigenous communities, as he refused to disclose confidential correspondence with his clients in a very high profile case against a multi-national business enterprise," a UN report said. The report said his detention is "arbitrary" and "violates his right to a fair trial".

Tamil prisoners sue Lanka's ex-jail minister over abuse

COLOMBO

EIGHT Tamil prisoners in Sri Lanka have approached the country's Supreme Court claiming that their fundamental rights were violated by former prisons minister Lohan Ratwatte who allegedly threatened them on gunpoint, their lawyers said on Thursday.

Ratwatte, the Minister of State for Prisons Management, resigned on September 15 after an uproar over his alleged remarks to kill Tamil prisoners during his recent visit to a jail in the island nation's north central region.

In the petition, the prisoners claimed that Ratwatte visited the Anuradhapura prison, where they are lodged, on September 12 and threatened them at gunpoint besides verbally abusing them. They have requested the Supreme Court for their transfer to a jail in the Tamil-dominated Jaffna district and pleaded with the court to declare that their fundamental rights had been infringed upon by Ratwatte.

After a widespread condemnation by international rights groups, the prisons department and the ministry of justice started separate inquiries into the incident. F

Following the uproar, President Gotabaya Rajapaksa asked Ratwatte to step down.

The Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE) waged a war with the Sri Lankan government to carve out a separate Tamil homeland with the conflict ending in 2009 when the government forces killed its chief Velupillai Prabhakaran.

Survived 1918 flu, World War, but Covid claimed her

LOS ANGELES

SHE lived a life of adventure that spanned two continents. She fell in love with a World War II fighter pilot, barely escaped Europe ahead of Benito Mussolini's fascists, ground steel for the US war effort and advocated for her disabled daughter in a far less enlightened time. She was, her daughter said, someone who didn't make a habit of giving up.

And then this month, at age 105, Primetta Giacopini's life ended the way it began — in a pandemic.

"I think my mother would have been around quite a bit longer" if she hadn't contracted Covid," her 61-year-old daughter, Dorene Giacopini, said. "She was a fighter. She had a hard life and her attitude always was ..."

Primetta Giacopini's mother, Pasquina Fei, died in Connecticut of the flu in 1918 at age 25. That flu pandemic killed about 6,75,000 Americans — a death toll eclipsed this month by the 2020-21 coronavirus pandemic.

Primetta was two years old when her mother died. Her father, a laborer, didn't want to raise Primetta or her younger sister, Alice. He sent Alice back to Italy, their ancestral homeland, and handed Primetta to an Italian foster family that then relocated to Italy in 1929.

Primetta supported herself by working as a seamstress. Raven-haired with dark eyes and sharp features, she eventually fell in love with an Italian fighter pilot named Vittorio Andriani.

Italy entered World War II in June 1940. The local police warned Primetta to leave because Mussolini wanted American citizens out of the country. In June 1941, Andriani was missing in action; Primetta learned later that he had crashed and died near Malta. While he was missing, she joined a group of strangers making their way out of Italy on a train to Portugal.

In Lisbon she boarded a steamer bound for the US.

This year, during a visit on September 9, Dorene noticed her mother was coughing. "I made sure we said 'I love you.'" Chest X-rays told the story: pneumonia. Faced with a decision of whether to put Primetta on a ventilator — "They said nobody over 80 makes it off a ventilator," Dorene said — she decided to remove her oxygen. She died two days later. AFP

Govt keeps small savings rates for Q3 unchanged

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE central government has decided to keep interest rate of PPF, NSC and other small savings schemes unchanged at least for the next three months till December this year.

This means that interest rate on PPF (Public Provident Fund) remains at 7.1% per annum while for the senior citizen savings scheme, the interest rate will remain at 7.4% per annum, Sukanya Samriddhi account holders will continue to get 7.6% compounded annually on their account balance.

The 5-year monthly income account scheme is offering 6.6% payable monthly, while the 5-year NSC (National Saving Certificate) continues to offer 6.8% compounded annually.

So the investors in post office small savings schemes, senior citizens can heave a sigh of relief as these schemes could continue to be attractive compared to bank fixed deposits.

Technically, interest rate resetting has been done based on yields of government securities, as advised by the Shyamala Gopinath Committee.

However, it always remains a politically sensitive issue. Currently, most leading banks are offering interest rates of around 5.5% over 1 to 10-year deposits.

It was for this reason the centre had earlier rolled back its order after it announced a reduction in the interest over small savings schemes, triggering major protest just ahead of the West Bengal elections.

The tribunal in its order said that it cannot deny EGM to shareholders. Zee Entertainment has told the NCLT that it would comply with Section 100 of Companies Act on EGM. Invesco Developing Markets Fund and OFI Global China Fund LLC together holds 17.88% stake in the company and had filed a petition before the Mumbai branch of the NCLT seeking an order for ZEEL to hold an EGM.

The investors have been calling for the ouster of Zee's MD Punit Goenka because of what they term as "the erratic manner in which important and serious decisions have been handled" by the company.

Invesco and OFI have also demanded the removal of two independent directors — Ashok Kurien and Manish Chokhani — from the board, and proposed the appointment of six new independent directors. Despite the concern raised by the shareholders, Zee signed a deal to merge itself with Sony Pictures Networks India. The two investors again asked for an EGM in a letter dated Sept 23 to the ZEEL board.

A Zee spokesperson said that the company board will meet as per the time allotted. "The company will continue to take all the actions needed in the interest of the shareholders and as per law," he said.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TATAS have fully exited from Singapore-based NatSteel Holdings after it sold 100% stake in the company to TopTip Holding for ₹1,275 crore.

Tata Steel on Thursday informed the stock exchanges that TS Global Holdings Singapore, a 100% indirect subsidiary of Tata Steel Limited, executed definitive agreements with TopTip Holding, a Singapore-based steel and iron ore trading company, to divest its 100% equity stake in NatSteel Holdings for an equity value of $172 million (₹1,275 crore).

Based on the historical performance of the transacted business, the Enterprise Value to EBITDA works out to be about 13 times, says Tata Steel in a statement.

The sale proceeds would be used for reduction of the company's offshore debt.

The sale of NatSteel is said to be part of Tata Steel's portfolio restructuring exercise.

It also underlines the fact that the company now wants to focus on the India business.

The wires business of NatSteel in Thailand (Siam Industrial Wires) has been retained by Tata Steel as part of the downstream wires portfolio

NatSteel's posted revenue of ₹2,852 crore (excluding that of Siam Industrial Wires) in 2020-21 and its net worth at the end of March 2021 was negative ₹32 crore.

GOVT KEEPS FISCAL DEFICIT AT 31% OF BUDGETED TARGET

ANURADHA SHUKLA @ New Delhi

BETTER than expected revenue and prudent expenditure has helped the central government in keeping fiscal deficit at ₹4.7 lakh crore, or 31% of the full year Budget estimate till August, and the government is confident of keeping it lower than the target of 6.8% at 6.5%.

Officials claimed that better than expected revenue and prudent expenditure helped the government to manage its fiscal deficit, which had reached 109% of the BE for the same period last fiscal year. They claim that the target is to keep fiscal deficit below 6.5%. "This was very difficult year and we had to take some difficult decisions. Certainly it has helped, along with better revenue collection. Unless some major disruption happens, the target is to keep the fiscal deficit below 6.5%, even with opening up expenditure for the rest of the year," a finance ministry official told TNIE.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had budgeted a fiscal deficit target of ₹15.07 lakh crore, or 6.8% of GDP.

According to the official data released on Thursday, government received ₹8,08,672 crore up to August, which was 40.9% of the Budget estimate(BE) for 2021-22, while the total expenditure incurred by the government was ₹12,76,681 crore, which was 36.7% of the BE.

Out of the total receipt, ₹6,44,843 crore was tax revenue, ₹1,48,650 crore was non-tax revenue, on the back of ₹99,122 crore surplus by RBI and ₹15,179 crore of non-debt capital receipts. The centre claimed ₹2,12,606 crore has been transferred to states as devolution of share of taxes by government of India up to August, 2021.

Of the total expenditure, ₹11,04,813 crore is on revenue account and ₹1,71,868 crore is on capital account. Revenue expenditure was ₹11.05 lakh crore against ₹11.13 lakh crore, while capital expenditure was ₹1.72 lakh crore versus ₹1.34 lakh crore.

"Total revenue expenditure is just 37% of the budget amount mainly due to the curbs that were placed by the government. We may expect this to increase in second half as the government has asked ministries to spend their budgets," said Madan Sabnavis, Chief Economist with Care Ratings.

Out of the total revenue expenditure, ₹2,78,371 crore is on account of interest payments and ₹1,47,398 crore is on account of subsidies. "We expect the Centre's gross tax revenues to exceed the BE by at least ₹2 lakh cr, said Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist, ICRA.

Core sector grows 11.6% in August

New Delhi: Low base effect helped India's index of eight core industries to grow by 11.6% in the month of August, mainly due to an uptick in production of cement, coal, electricity, steel, natural gas and refinery products. According to the data released by the Ministry of Commerce & Industry, cement production during the month of August rose 36.3% and coal production increased by 20.6%. While the petroleum refinery production rose 9.1%, electricity generation climbed 15.3% on-year, the commerce ministry data showed. Steel production increased by 5.1% in August.

While the India CV business would see cyclical recovery, the India PV business would witness structural recovery. JLR is witnessing cyclical recovery, supported by a favorable product mix. The convergence of multiple factors could drive recovery in EBIT margins and leave scope for a surprise on profitability. However, supply-side issues would defer the recovery process.

Govt to launch online job portal for senior citizens

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

SENIOR citizens looking for jobs across the country will now be able to register on a government employment portal being launched on Friday.

The Senior Able Citizens for Re-Employment in Dignity (SACRED) portal steered by the Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment's (MoSJ&E's)) will enable those above 60 years of age to search for jobs on the platform. The portal aims to bring the employment-seeking senior citizens and employment providers on one platform.

How it works

A senior citizen can get oneself registered on the portal with his education, experience, skills and areas of interest. Any job provider, be it an individual, firm or an organization, can also register on the portal, specifying the task involved and the number of senior citizens required.

Organisations will help the senior citizens in applying for jobs free of charge. "Therefore, the employment portal will serve not only the senior citizens seeking employment, but also the employers, the SHGs, the senior citizens gaining skills, and other agencies/ individuals," the ministry said.

₹10 crore has been provided for the platform development along with maintenance grant of ₹2 crore per year for 5 years. Expenditure would be incurred on an actual basis. Another ₹10 crore would be spent annually for publicity of the portal, the ministry said.

PSB clerical hiring tests to be in 13 languages: Finmin

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Finance has recommended that going forward, clerical recruitments for the twelve public sector banks will be conducted in the 13 regional languages along with English and Hindi.

The government said this will provide uniform opportunity to the local youth for employment, who have studied in regional languages.

"This decision is based on the recommendation of a committee that was constituted by the Ministry of Finance, Government of India to look into the matter of holding examinations for clerical cadre in Public Sector Banks (PSBs) in regional languages. The ongoing process of holding the examination initiated by IBPS was kept on hold until the recommendations of the Committee were made available," Finance Ministry said in a statement on Thursday.

The Finance Ministry in July directed IBPS to put on hold examination for clerical cadre in PSBs.

Along with exams, advertisement for recruitments would also be available in regional language.

Further, regional language would also help banks to have an upper hand and better communication with customers who converse in regional language.

McLaren report exposes amateur boxing's nasty underbelly

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

AFTER getting elected as the president of the International Boxing Association (AIBA), Umar Kremlev said he was committed to "rebuilding the credibility and trust that AIBA once had in the minds of sportspeople worldwide and that includes, of course, restoring AIBA's Olympic status". One of his initiatives was to constitute an investigation into those infamous bouts during the 2016 Olympics.

Richard McLaren, CEO of McLaren Global Sports Solutions, led the investigation and made some scathing allegations against previous top AIBA officials and its functioning. The McLaren Independent Investigation Report has all the ingredients to make a decent Hollywood thriller. From monetary bribing, intimidation, corrupt ringleaders, secret meetings, expensive gifts to manipulations, the report exposes the nasty underbelly of amateur boxing.

The report pointed out that there could be at least 11 bouts that could have been manipulated. "A comprehensive study of the bouts at Rio indicates approximately nine bouts that where suspicious beyond the two raised in the media at the time. It may be necessary to further examine those bouts for which no definitive conclusion can be made at this time," said the Investigation.

It doesn't limit to just manipulation by referee and judges, the report alleged that there are indications that money was involved too and the amount was in six figures. "Bouts were manipulated for money, perceived benefit of AIBA, or to thank National Federations and their Olympic committees, and, on occasion, hosts of competitions for their financial support and political backing," the report said.

Former president CK Wu and his executive director apparently played a part too. According to McLaren: "the President CK Wu bears ultimate responsibility for the failures of officiating at Rio and the qualifying events. He was supported by his Executive Director at Rio who were key actors in organising the field of play to allow the manipulation to flourish."

What seems even more worrying is the fact that the report points fingers at 2012 London Olympics as well. "A system for the manipulation of bouts by officials existed at Rio. The seeds of this were sown years before starting from at least the Olympic Games of the twenty-first century through the events around 2011 (to be discussed in next Stage) and London 2012," said the report.

Apparently, the qualifying tournaments for participating in the Rio Games were the practice grounds for "corruption and manipulation of bouts".

The report made some jaw-dropping claims of intimidation. According to a witness part of the investigation, a five-star judge entered his room drunk to warn him during a European meet in Bulgaria. "So they had keys to my room and they came in and basically drunk told me that if I didn't start doing the job that I was hired to do that things wouldn't work out very well for me..." revealed a witness during the investigation. What was worse is that his complaint to the Executive Committee went unheard and "there was no investigation".

As per the report, Rio was the pinnacle. "Helmut Ranze, the Supervisor at the Rio Games, reported that all the appointments for Rio were "top secret", and kept even from him. This secrecy enabled the Executive Director ("ED") to make his selections a 'fait accompli', without any opportunity for discussions," said the report.

SURFACE TENSION

Strips in the IPL haven't favoured batters, but there's belief they may become more batting-friendly by the time T20 WC begins

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

156/6, 157/4, 125/7, 120/7, 127/9, 130/7, 134/7 & 139/4. These are the totals at Sharjah Cricket Stadium after the Indian Premier League resumed in the UAE on September 19. The venue will still host six more matches, including two play-offs before getting an eight-day rest ahead of the T20 World Cup where 11 matches are scheduled at this ground.

Since the restart of the IPL, none of the pitches at Dubai, Abu Dhabi and Sharjah have produced outright flat decks. In the 15 matches so far, no team has touched 200 with Rajasthan Royals's 185 at Dubai being the highest. It is the only match where both teams scored in excess of 180 with Chennai Super Kings and Kolkata Knight Riders fixture in Abu Dhabi producing totals of 171/6 and 172/8 being the second highest. It is in contrast to what was in the beginning of the 2020 edition, where the first 15 matches witnessed nine scores of 180 and above and the least defendable total was Delhi Capitals' 157, a team that arguably had the best bowling attack in the tournament.

This edition, Punjab have successfully defended even a total of 125. Even though pitches have showed signs of slowing down in the second innings, teams have been wary of batting first because of the dew factor that could have a bearing while bowling second. Teams have chosen to field first 10 times and have gone on to win six of those, including Chennai Super Kings on Thursday, who chased down Sunrisers Hyderabad's target of 134, to confirm their play-off spot. Speaking at the toss, MS Dhoni, while choosing to bowl first, hoped that the unused pitch will not be as slow as previous ones, but the traits remained throughout, which Chennai's attack made good use of.

While the big-hitters have found it hard to force the pace of the wicket in search of boundaries, the touch players, technically sound ones, have been able to manoeuvre the field and play smart, successful cricket. So this brings the question, how the pitches will behave at the T20 World Cup. Though pitches that tend to have a balance between ball and bat can still produce exciting T20 cricket, those played on slow pitches where teams scrap their way tend to be sleep inducers.

And it hasn't happened because the curators have wanted it this way. These are tired pitches with the UAE alone hosting 123 matches since the pandemic began. Over an 11-month period with pandemic bringing cricket to a halt in many countries, it was the most sought after country, playing host to an entire edition of the IPL in 2020, the Abu Dhabi T10, part of Pakistan Super League and also international matches involving Afghanistan, Ireland, Zimbabwe and UAE.

While Abu Dhabi shared much of the workload hosting 81 matches before the IPL 2021 resumed, the Sharjah pitch was relaid recently and is yet to settle down. At Dubai, with the pitch getting less light because of the stadium's structure, curators haven't had it easy too. Which is why keeping the T20 World Cup in mind, the organisers distributed the matches between the three venues, so that all venues get adequate rest.

Keeping the T20 World Cup in mind, each of the venues has seen the curators leave some grass on the pitch, which stops it from breaking fast and hold it together. It is understood that the curators are also watering regularly so the strips doesn't get loose. It could offer more to the batsmen by the time the World Cup begins.

KKR VS PBKS

RUSSELL FITNESS

There are few match-winners of Andre Russell's calibre going around. It is natural then for Kolkata Knight Riders to hope against hope that their talisman is fit and raring to go once again. He missed KKR's last game against Delhi Capitals after limping off the field in the game against Chennai Super Kings.

DO-OR-DIE FOR PBKS

Punjab Kings are in an all too familiar situation. With just four wins in 11 matches, they are now in a zone where they cannot afford to take even one false step. They have often been in this position, playing catch up after a run of indifferent results. If they are to turn the corner, KL Rahul needs to find his groove.

ASIAN CHAMPIONSHIPS

Indian men's TT team assured of medal

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @ New Delhi

FINALLY, there is something positive to talk about regarding Indian table tennis. The men's team comprising A Sharath Kamal, G Sathiyan, Harmeet Desai, Manav Thakkar and Sanil Shetty created history by assuring themselves of a medal at the Asian Championships at the Lusain Sports Arena in Doha late on Wednesday.

In their quarterfinal match, India got the better of Iran 3-1. India's top ranked paddler Sharath began proceedings and downed Nima Alamiyan 11-9, 6-11, 11-9, 11-5. Then it was the turn of Sathiyan, who did not disappoint as he dispatched World No 74 Noshad Alamiyan 11-7, 11-6, 6-11, 11-6.

It was Harmeet's turn to close out the match but in a see-saw battle, the Indian succumbed to Amir Hossein Hodaei 8-11, 7-11, 11-8, 14-12, 7-11. Again, the responsibility of sealing the deal came onto the shoulders of Sharath who duly obliged, getting past Noshad 11-8, 11-8, 8-11, 11-9. What made the win even more special was the fact that Sharath was carrying an injury on his heel which flared up post his opening rubber. He got tapped up with bandage and took a painkiller and came on to seal the famous triumph.

"I felt pain during national camp and tried to rest as much as possible and got it bandaged. After first win, the pain recurred making it difficult to walk. Got it bandaged and took some medicine and my teammates egged me on and I'm glad I could get the win. This medal has eluded us for many years and I'm glad that we could finally break the jinx," the World No 33 told this daily.

GK mistaken for politician

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

PUNJAB is in political turmoil these days but it has nothing to do with Indian footballer and ATK Mohun Bagan goalkeeper Amrinder Singh. In what was a classic case of mistaken identity when sports and politics got mixed up, many mistook the social media handle of the goalkeeper to be that of ex-Punjab CM Capt. Amarinder Singh, as the two share the same name.

After being tagged on social media on matters involving the political crisis in Punjab, the 28-year-old cleared the air. "Dear News Media, Journalists, I am Amrinder Singh, goalkeeper of the Indian Football Team and not the Former Chief Minister of the state Punjab. Please stop tagging me," he wrote on Twitter. This garnered so much attention that even the veteran politician who recently resigned as the CM of Punjab responded. "I empathise with you, my young friend...," the former Congress leader said.

PINK-BALL TEST

Smriti puts India in command

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN

WHEN you send the opposition in on the morning of a Test, that first session is everything. Take wickets, contain runs and you have set the tempo for the entire match. Fortunately for India, the Australian bowlers' radar malfunctioned. On the few occasions when the Indian batters erred, the fielders extended the hosts' hospitality by grassing chances.

Shafali Verma, the lone batter to be dismissed, was given three lives before she was removed for 31. It was her opening partnership with Smriti Mandhana, on 80, that has put the visitors in command. The southpaw, who was all class during the entirety of Day 1, looked set to score many more when the Carrara Oval witnessed a deluge for the ages. It stopped for a brief while but the pre advertised thunderstorms came back to leave India 132/1 after 44.1 overs. Punam Raut, on 16, was the other batter at the crease.

In her still fledgling career, Verma has already made quite the name for herself as a gung-ho opener, who cares little for bowlers' reputations.

On Thursday afternoon, though, it was Mandhana who essayed that role to perfection. "We just had two sessions with pink ball (before the Test). I didn't really get much time to play with pink ball, but during the Hundred, I just ordered a pink ball, just to keep it in my room because I knew there is going to be a Test," Mandhana said.

Brief scores: India women 132/1 in 44.1 ovs (S Mandhana 80 n.o.; S Molineux 1/18) vs Australia women.

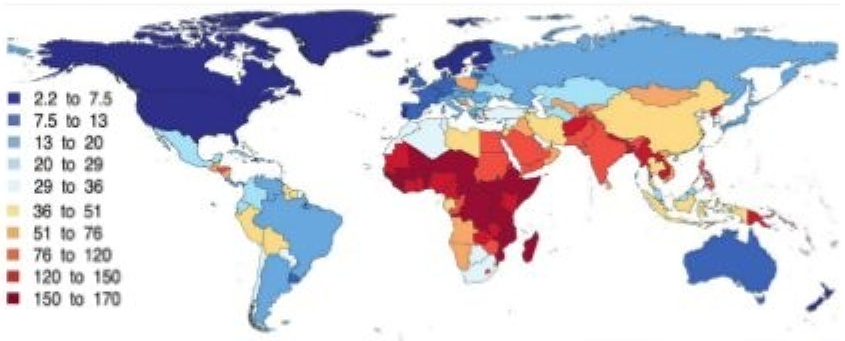
Air pollution likely cause of up to 6 mn premature births

Highest birth weight reductions were for S Asia (118 gms) and sub-Saharan Africa (140 gms)



The estimated global reduction in birth weight (grams) attributable to total PM2.5 air pollution (from ambient and household sources) for 2019 | PLOS MEDICINE

HEALTH

NEW YORK: Air pollution likely contributed to almost 6 million premature births and almost 3 million underweight babies in 2019, according to a recent study.

The study, led by the University of California-San Francisco and the University of Washington, quantifies the effects of indoor and outdoor pollution on several key indicators of pregnancy, including gestational age at birth, reduction in birth weight, low birth weight, and pre-term birth.

The analysis, published in the journal PLOS Medicine, stated that the global incidence of pre-term birth and low birthweight could be reduced by almost 78 per cent if air pollution were minimised in Southeast Asia and sub-Saharan Africa, where indoor pollution is common and pre-term birth rates are the highest in the world.

But it also found significant risks from ambient air pollution in more developed parts of the world. In the US, for example, outdoor air pollution is estimated to have contributed to almost 12,000 pre-term births in 2019. "The air pollution-attributable burden is enormous, yet with sufficient effort, it could be largely mitigated," said lead author Rakesh Ghosh, at the Institute for Global Health Sciences at UCSF.

The researchers said that air pollution should now be considered a major driver of infant morbidity and mortality, not just of chronic adult diseases. "Our study suggests that taking measures to mitigate climate change and reduce air pollution levels will have significant health co-benefit for newborns," Ghosh said.

A growing body of evidence points to air pollution as a major cause of pre-term birth and low birthweight. Preterm birth is the leading cause of neo-natal mortality, affecting more than 15 mn infants every year. Children with low birthweight or who are born premature have higher rates of major illness throughout their lives. The WHO estimates that more than 90% of the world lives with polluted outdoor air.

Launch at 3:04 pm IST from Cape Canaveral Space Force Station in Florida. It will make two gravity assists around the Earth to propel towards the L4 Trojans. Lucy will also visit the main asteroid belt on its way to L4

2027-2028

Lucy will fly by the L4 cloud of Trojan asteroids

2033

Before heading out to the L5 Trojan cloud, Lucy will make its 3rd and final visit to the Earth for a gravity assist

EVERY 6 YEARS

Lucy will continue to cycle between the two Trojan clouds (L4 & L5) every six years

Note: A gravitational assist is a slingshot method to accelerate the spacecraft and save propellant

NEMESIS

After completing the mission, the spacecraft will remain on a stable orbit for over 100,000 years. If the orbit becomes unstable, Lucy could head towards the Sun or get kicked out from the solar system

LUCY ALL SET TO UNEARTH MYSTERIES OF THE SOLAR SYSTEM'S EVOLUTION

NASA is poised to launch its Lucy towards the time capsules floating near Jupiter: the Trojan asteroids. These asteroids are believed to be the remnants of primordial materials that formed the outer planets of our solar system 4.5 billion years ago. Like the fossilised human ancestor Lucy that revealed unique insights into humanity's evolution, NASA's Lucy is expected to throw light on the origin and formation of our solar system. We take a look

KEY OBJECTIVES

To understand the evolution of the solar system and their present configuration

Lucy will map the geology, surface colour, interior and bulk properties of the Trojans in addition to looking for satellites or rings around them

LUCY SPECS

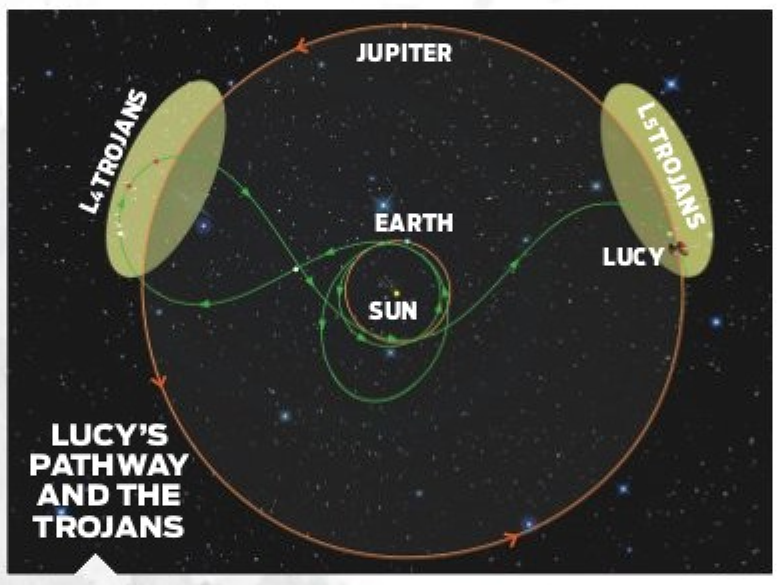
1550 kg

Lucy weighs 1550 kg, which includes fuel of 725 kg

14m

The 14m wide Lucy has 256 GB onboard memory

- It has cameras, spectrometers and two solar arrays each the width of a school bus



LUCY'S PATHWAY AND THE TROJANS

The Trojan asteroids, named after the characters of Trojan War, circle the Sun in two swarms with one group ahead of the Jupiter (L4 Trojans) and the other trailing behind (L5 Trojans). The Trojans, numbering more than 7,000 in total, are thought to be abundant in dark carbon compounds and probably rich in water and other volatile substances is the cost of the 12-year mission to eight asteroids – one in the Main Belt and seven Trojans

$981 million

4 bn miles

Over its 12-year primary mission period, Lucy will cover 4 billion miles at a speed of 400,000 miles per hour

DIAMOND SHAPED LOGO

The researchers who discovered Lucy the fossil in Ethiopia in 1974 named her after the Beatles' song "Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds". In a nod to this heritage, the logo of NASA's Lucy is diamond shaped

FEAT OF MANY FIRSTS

Lucy will explore a record number of asteroids and will be the first to visit the Trojan asteroids. It is the first ever spacecraft to return to the vicinity of the Earth from the outer solar system

Virgin cleared to launch after safety probe

SPACE

WASHINGTON: Virgin Galactic said on Wednesday it had been cleared for spaceflight after the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) concluded a probe into a safety "mishap" related to its high-profile mission in July that featured company founder Richard Branson.

Virgin Galactic will update its calculations for future flights and request more airspace, and promised real-time communication with the FAA during flight operations, the company said.

An article on The New Yorker had said that the pilots had encountered cockpit warnings indicating the rocket-powered spaceplane's climb was too shallow and the nose was insufficiently vertical. This could have meant that, after taking its crew to the edge of space, it would have lacked sufficient energy to glide back to its runway on Earth.

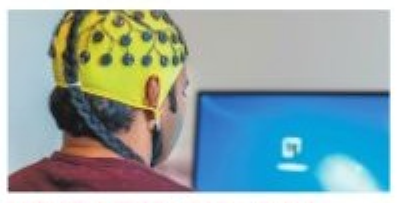
Chilean neuro rights law



NEUROTECHNOLOGY

Chilean lawmakers approved a law establishing the rights to personal identity, free will and mental privacy, becoming the first country in the world to legislate on neurotechnology that can manipulate one's mind. This bill could form the basis of future lawmaking on human rights in the face of advances in technology applied to the mind and the brain. Rafael Yuste, a biology professor at Columbia University and one of the world's top experts in the field, told AFP that researchers have already succeeded in implanting in the brain of mice images of things that they hadn't actually seen which affected their behavior. This causes concern that such neurotechnology may be used to record people's mental data as well as to modify it.

Tough to stop antidepressants

MEDICINE

A study of British patients with a history of depression highlights how tough it can be to stop medication, even for those who feel well enough to try. More than half the participants who discontinued their antidepressants relapsed within a year. By contrast, the relapse rate was lower — almost 40% — for those who continued their medications. Both groups had been taking daily doses of antidepressants, had recovered from their most recent bout and felt healthy enough to consider stopping the drugs. Previous research has also shown relapse is common, and an editorial published with the study in the New England Journal of Medicine suggests medication for life may be advised for some patients with several previous bouts.

INDUSTRIAL AIR POLLUTION COSTS $500 BILLION

HEALTH

COPENHAGEN: Air pollution from industries in Europe causes health and environmental damage estimated up to $500 bn for a single year, the European Environment Agency (EEA) said on Wednesday. In 2017, industrial air pollution cost between 277 and 433 bn euros, according to a new report from the agency. "This is equivalent to about 2-3% of EU GDP, and is higher than many individual Member States' total economic output that year," said EEA. While European industry has made "significant progress" in reducing its environmental and climate impact, "societal costs or 'externalities' caused by air pollution from the sector remain high." The effects of the pollution include illness and premature death as well as the deterioration of ecosystems, habitats and crops.

CORAL DRAW

Scientists race to save Florida corals from mysterious disease

CONSERVATION

ORLANDO: At a laboratory in central Florida, biologist Aaron Gavin uses tiny pipettes to carefully feed shrimp to more than 700 corals living in huge saltwater tanks, with sunlight-mimicking lamps glowing above them.

The work of the scientists here could be the last chance to save the species that make up the only coral reef in the United States' continental waters.

Gavin and his team have diligently recreated the coral reef habitat found in the waters off the southern tip of the state, complete with artificial currents and local fish.

They hope to prevent the 18 species of coral in their care from suffering the same mysterious ailment, called SCTLD (stony coral tissue loss disease), that is afflicting their wild cousins.

Among the sprawling mangroves and darting schools of fish off the Florida Keys, the damaged corals — normally dark — now appear as large white patches on the floor of the Atlantic Ocean.

The situation is the same all along the Florida Reef Tract, which stretches 580 kilometers from the Dry Tortugas, which are the westernmost islands in the Florida Keys, all the way to the town of St Lucie, more than 190 km north of Miami.

"It's heartbreaking, and I think the most alarming (thing) about it is that most people don't know it's happening," said Michelle Ashton, the communications director of the Fish and Wildlife Foundation of Florida.

What Gavin and his colleagues discover at the Florida Coral Rescue Center could change the future of the state's marine ecosystems.

"We are holding the corals safely and healthy in our care," explained Justin Zimmerman, the director of the Orlando-based lab, which is managed by aquatic theme park company SeaWorld. "If they were still in the wild, up to 90 per cent of them would have been dead," Zimmerman said.

The potentially catastrophic SCTLD was first discovered in 2014, near Miami, and has continued to spread rapidly, killing about half of stony coral species, a cornerstone of marine biodiversity. The disease, whose causes are unknown, is now plaguing the animals further into the Caribbean, all the way in Mexico and Belize.

The group, faced with the threat of more than 20 of the 45 species of hard corals in the area going extinct, devised the plan to extract healthy corals from the region's waters and care for them in aquariums in the hope they can be returned to their wild habitats in the future. The lab's work is part of a project by National Oceanic and Atmospheric Association and Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission.
